Local Hoopsters Capture Western Canadian Honors

Blue Ribbons Defeat Raymond Union Jacks, 44 to 28, in Second and Deciding Game to Enter Final for Dominion Championship—1,500 Fans See Fast Exhibition at Willows

DISPLAYING brilliant form from the opening whistle to the last, Blue Ribbons, British Columbia champions, added the Western Canada basketball championship to their string of victories last night at the Willows gymnasium by defeating the Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta titleholders, in the second game of the two-out-of-three series by a 44 to 28 score.

The Victoria cagers took the series in straight games, having won the first tussle Wednesday evening, 35 to 28, to enter the Dominion final. The Ribbons will now mark time and await the arrival of the Eastern winners on the Coast. Over 1,500 fans attended.

Outplaying the Albertans in every department of the game, the Ribbons were never in danger of defeat and coasted to the title in one of the greatest exhibitions of teamwork ever witnessed on a local court. Their passing, shooting and defensive work was sensational, and the packed gymnasium gave the lads a great ovation as the final gun sounded. The Jacks fought back hard, but it was a losing battle, as they were never in the picture five minutes after the game got under way. The game was fast throughout, with the Ribbons setting a terrific pace.

CHUCK CHAPMAN SCORES

Art Chapman got the tip-off from the first toss up and the Ribbons' forwards swept down the floor. Art Chapman missed and so did Muzz Patrick, while Fairbanks missed at the other end. Chuck Chapman worked into position and sank the opening basket. A. Chapman fouled Fairbanks and the latter missed, while Lynn Patrick fouled Rolfson and he also missed. Fairbanks fouled Art Chapman as he went through under the basket, but he also missed. Lynn Patrick went in fast to bang in the rebound, and seconds later Muzz Patrick added another from close in. Rolfson bodied Lynn Patrick and he converted the foul.

AMBASSADOR TO ENTER PROTEST

German Gov't Aroused Over Statements Made in British House

BERLIN, April 14 (AP).—Criticism of Germany yesterday in the British House of Commons so aroused the ire of the German Government that Ambassador Leopold von Hoesch was ordered today to protest to Great Britain.

The long-distance wires were kept busy when the decision was being made that the ambassador must protest in the name not only of the Foreign Office but of the entire Government of the Reich.

PAINFULLY SURPRISED

The ministers were described as painfully surprised because Sir John Simon, as Great Britain's Minister for Foreign Affairs, did not object to the criticism of Germany voiced by members of the House.

"Just imagine that any member of the Reichstag raised the Irish issue on the floor—don't you suppose the German Foreign Minister would have called him down?" a Government spokesman said.

NO TIME FOR REVISION

In the House of Commons, at London, Sir Austen Chamberlain, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, asserted Thursday that this is no time for revision of the Treaty of Versailles because of the present state of mind in Germany.

"This new spirit of German nationalism," Sir Austen said, "is the old Prussianism with an added savagery of racial pride and exclusiveness."

BALCHEN LEAVES TO CLOSE PLANS

Famous Aviator Making Ready to Pilot Flight of Antarctic Exploration Expedition

HALIFAX, April 14 (CP).—Bernt Balchen, noted trans-Atlantic and Polar flyer, sailed from Halifax on the liner Stravangerford today for Oslo, Norway, to complete plans for a 3,000-mile flight of exploration over the Antarctic, on which he will act as pilot.

In Norway Balchen will meet Lincoln Ellsworth, leader of the expedition, and Sir Hubert Wilkins, who is accompanying Ellsworth and Balchen to the South. Ellsworth will act as navigator on the round-trip Polar voyage.

Ellsworth's expedition is expected to take two years to complete, and its backers hope it will result in providing the answers to a number of geographical questions relating to the South Polar region. Present plans call for a two-way, non-stop flight over the pole.

The jumping-off place of the expedition will be Dunedin, New Zealand, where members of the party will arrive by boat from Norway.

AMENDMENT KEPT SECRET

Government Guards Closely New Provisions of the Pensions Act

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—While the Government has closely guarded the provisions of the new bill amending the Pensions Act, it is known members of the Cabinet have held session with spokesmen of the associated veterans on a number of points contained in the bill.

The legislation to be introduced on Tuesday, as first drafted, contained a number of features not acceptable to the veterans, running counter to the presentations made by ex-service men before the special investigating committee some months ago. Whether these difficulties have now been straightened out has yet to be learned.

PREFER TRIBUNALS

The great body of veteran opinion is opposed to abolition of the pension tribunals and the increasing of the board of pension commissioners to a number almost equal to the size of the present board, plus the present tribunals.

"This is a matter more of psychology than anything else," one prominent organization official said here tonight. "Rightly or wrongly, the ex-service men entertain the idea that the tribunals were more sympathetic to them than the pension commissioners. To abolish the tribunals would leave a bad taste in the mouths of the returned men."

THE ECONOMY PLAN

With regard to the Government's economy plan affecting pensioners, it was said here tonight that, should it be decided to establish a "deadline" for dependents, this would have to take the form of an amendment to the Pensions Act. Such an amendment may be embodied in the new legislation.

Other provisions of pensions amendments are understood to deal with the appointment of a reviewing officer, whose duty will be to scrutinize all pension awards, and the establishment of additional machinery to simplify the preparation of pension claims.

PARDONED AFTER FOUR YEARS ON CHAIN GANG

ATLANTA, Ga., April 14 (AP). — Robert E. Coleman, who served four years on a chain gang for a crime he did not commit, was pardoned today by Governor Eugene Talmadge.

Coleman was convicted of slaying his bride and was sentenced to life imprisonment. James Starks, negro, serving a term for burglary, told officers yesterday he beat Mrs. Coleman to death with a poker the night of March 14, 1929.

To Seek New Speed Marks

Heated Battle of Words Flares Up In Russian Court

British Defendants Shout Indignant Denial of Charges Made by State Witnesses—A. W. Gregory Describes Task of Installing Largest Switches in Russia With Incompetent Interpreter

MOSCOW, April 14 (CP).—Heated verbal battle developed between accused Englishmen and Russian State witnesses today, as the trial of the six English employees of the Metropolitan Vickers electrical firm, facing charges of sabotage and espionage, continued. The court, in a lengthy sitting—the session in the October Hall today again ran until 10 p.m.—heard an array of Russian witnesses against the defendants, and hot denials by the Englishmen of the allegations that at various times they had by bribery or otherwise induced wrecking of machinery at big Russian plants.

The highlight of the sitting was the challenge to the court by A. W. Gregory, a little red-headed Welshman who is one of the defendants.

WRATHFUL DENIAL

Gregory heard with impatience a statement by M. Seibert, one of the state witnesses, to the effect that Gregory and the other defendants unduly delayed installation of oil switches at the great new power station at Dnieprostov. Gregory leaped to his feet, his face scarlet with anger. He raised his arm and facing Presiding Judge V. Ulrich, "I want to face this man," he cried. "He has made statements against my reputation and you accept them without any proof. Is that justice?"

The judge replied: "The court has listened to the witness and now it is your privilege to make a statement. Afterwards it is the court's business to determine who shall be believed." Gregory then strode to the stand. He shook his fist in the face of the pale Seibert and declared:

"I went to Dnieprostov to erect the largest switches ever made by

Frost and Winds Hit N. Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 14 (AP). — A storm described as of "extreme cold and almost hurricane velocity," is sweeping Northern Mexico, and has made its influence felt in the capital, where cloudy skies and lowered temperatures have been noted.

Reports say frost hurt crops at Chihuahua; the temperature dropped forty degrees at Monterey, and strong northern winds and cold weather hit Tampico.

AMBASSADOR ARRIVES

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador to the United States, and former head of the Reichsbank, arrived on the liner Bremen today.

Jack Matson Wins Medal Honors in B.C. Amateur Golf

Oak Bay Southpaw Captures Qualifying Test With 145 After Fine Performance on Wind-Swept Course — Ken Lawson Second

SHOOTING the wind-swept Oak Bay golf course for a fine thirty-six-hole total of 145, Jack Matson, of the home club, won medal honors in the qualifying test of the British Columbia amateur championship yesterday. Matson shot the morning eighteen in 75, then stroked the course in a brilliant 70, one over perfect figures, in the afternoon. The latter round was the best of the day. In second place came young Kenny Lawson, of Uplands Club, who had 75 and 73 for a total of 148.

Matson played steady golf throughout both rounds. The Oak Bay southpaw was hitting his woods long and straight, while his iron clubs worked smoothly and his putting was excellent. In the afternoon he had a chance to beat par by one stroke when he came to the eighteenth green. Well on in two, Matson went for the hole, but his ball rolled just wide and about a yard past the pin. He missed the next putt, the ball stopping about an inch short.

Scores yesterday were unusually high, owing to the stiff wind, which prevailed throughout the day. The sky, however, was clear and a bright sun flooded the course, which was veiled in Spring splendor. The fairways were in excellent shape and the greens perfect.

MORRISON WELL UP

Bob Morrison, of Uplands, and Stan Leodard, defending champion, of Vancouver, were tied for third place with 150's. The former had rounds of 76 and 74, and the latter 74 and 76. Jimmy Todd, Gorge Vale southpaw, had 75 and 76 for a total of 151, while Alan Taylor had 74 and 78 for a total of 152.

HOUSE BATTLES OVER EMBARGO

Bitter Debate Arises Over Plan to Invest Power in President

WASHINGTON, April 14 (CP).—Prophecies of war and internal dissension mingled today with bitter words, charging personal interest and concealment of facts, as the United States House of Representatives prepared to wind up debate on the resolution that would empower the President to stop shipment of munitions to fighting nations.

Despite what appeared to be growing opposition, Democratic leaders predicted the resolution would be passed on the roll call vote set for Monday. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said that legislation would "strengthen the position of this Government in its international relations."

Representative McFadden, Pennsylvania Republican, who was cast out of party councils because of his opposition to President Hoover's foreign policy, insisted the embargo plan "is of British origin," and predicted that thirty days after it is enacted "we will witness a declaration of war against the United States by Japan."

BENNETT TO VISIT WITH OTHER HEADS

Will Be in Washington at Same Time as MacDonald and Herriot

NO TARIFF EXPERTS AMONG DELEGATES

WASHINGTON, April 14 (CP).—Word that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett would be present at President Roosevelt's economic talks from April 25 to 28, inclusive, was received here today from the Canadian capital. Thus Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and former Premier Edouard Herriot will be in Washington at the same time as Mr. Bennett.

Mr. MacDonald sails from England tomorrow and will be here April 21 to 26, inclusive. M. Herriot will reach here April 23.

WORKING ON BILL

United States tariff experts worked away today on the difficult task of preparing for President Roosevelt the bill on which he will rely for power to make reciprocal tariff agreements with various nations. He desires it particularly in order to be able to work with a comparatively free hand at the World Economic Conference in London about June 15, which is dedicated in part to a reduction of barriers in trade.

At the White House it was said the tariff bargaining bill has not yetbeen laid before the President for his approval. State Department officials declined to deny a report the bill is intended to give the President power to make bilateral agreements for a reduction of 40 or 50 per cent in tariff rates and also to negotiate a multi-lateral treaty at the world conference whereby all tariff duties would be decreased horizontally.

TAKING NO EXPERTS

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Plans for the visit of Premier R. B. Bennett to Washington were under consideration here this afternoon and, it was learned, call for arrival in the United States capital on April 25. He will probably remain until April 28.

The best information available here indicates Mr. Bennett has not planned on taking any tariff experts with him on his visit to Washington. This would suggest the discussions with the United States President would be on general lines, as a preliminary to getting down to actual tariff items.

YOUNG CUBANS SHOT TO DEATH

Political Terrorism Breaks Out Again in Havana—Seventeen Bombings

HAVANA, April 14 (AP).—Gunfire killed two young Cubans today and brought to seven the number of victims in the latest resurgence of political terrorism in the past ten days.

They were identified as Abilio and Ramiro Valdes Daussa, twenty-five and twenty-three years old, respectively, the sons of J. M. Valdes Leon, general paymaster for the Cuban Government. The two were arrested in a round-up after an outbreak of seventeen bombings yesterday and last night, which resulted in the wounding of three persons.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

After questioning at a police station, the two were turned over to plain clothes police. In the Vedado this afternoon several shots rang out. Uniformed policemen found Ramiro dead. His brother was rushed to a hospital, where he died almost immediately.

Cavalry was called out after police had started a round-up of persons suspected of terroristic tendencies and opposition to the rule of President Machado. The mounted troops patrolled Galiano Street, while throughout the city automobiles were stopped at gun point and searched.

BANKER ORDERED TO STAND TRIAL

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Charles E. Mitchell, resigned chairman of the National City Bank, was ordered today to stand trial, April 24, on two indictments charging income tax evasions in 1929 and 1930, although Max D. Steuer protested against "being crowded into an early trial."

Socialists Give Budget Approval

PARIS, April 14 (AP).—Premier Daladier's authority was strengthened today to Socialist approval of the 1933 budget. Except in 1928, the Socialists always have abstained from voting favorably on budgets because of their opposition to military credits.

COSTLY PEARLS MISSING

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—A $250,000 necklace of matched pink pearls disappeared mysteriously last Wednesday from the neck of the socially prominent Mrs. Theresa L. Noble, it was learned today.

Two Children Burned To Death When Fire Sweeps Over Prairie

Mother Seriously Injured When Family Car Is Trapped in Mudhole in Path of Blaze—Four Alberta Farms Reported to Have Been Laid Waste by Flames

DRUMHELLER, Alta., April 14 (CP). — Two children were burned to death, and their mother suffered severe burns, in a prairie fire, which swept fifteen square miles of farm and bushland here today. Tonight the fire was being brought under control by volunteer fire-fighters and police.

The dead are: Margaret Devalerriola, sixteen years old, and her sister, Ellen Devalerriola, eleven years old. Mrs. Dick Devalerriola, mother of the two children, was seriously injured.

STUCK IN MUDHOLE

Dick Devalerriola, father of the children, suffered minor burns when the family of four became trapped in the fire as the car in which they were riding became stuck in a mudhole.

Only meagre details of the blaze were available here late tonight.

It was reported the mother and her children raced from the stalled car to escape the flames and became trapped as the blaze swept over dried grass and bush along a side of the road. The father found the two children dead while fighting the flames.

CONDITION SERIOUS

Mrs. Devalerriola was brought to hospital here tonight. Her condition is serious.

The area swept by fire is approximately seventy-five miles northeast of here. Four farms were reported to have been virtually wiped out by the blaze, although no further loss of life was reported.

British Freighter Arrives at Quebec With Hole in Prow

QUEBEC, April 14 (CP).—Leaking badly from a hole in the prow, the British freighter Nyanza, of the McIntyre Line of Glasgow, was tied to a wharf here tonight awaiting daylight when a survey of the damage could be made.

The freighter, 4,794 gross tons, ran aground in the St. Lawrence River near Portneuf, early this evening, while en route to Montreal with a cargo of Scotch anthracite.

ARREST GANG IN PORTLAND

Perpetrators of Spectacular Crimes in Northwest Is Believed in Toils

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14 (AP). —With the arrest of four men here today, police said tonight they hope to clear up a number of recent spectacular crimes in Oregon and Washington, and possibly British Columbia. Four women were arrested with them.

The four men, arrested through the co-operation of Tacoma authorities, were charged with being members of a gang of six who held up J. S. O'Day, Tacoma messenger, and robbed him of the $4,500 payroll of the Tacoma Veterans' Hospital.

CHEQUES RECOVERED

Police reported that $600 in travelers' cheques, found in one of their rooms, were identified as taken from the Philomath, Oregon, bank when that institution was held up on January 4. The bank robbers escaped with about $1,200.

Tonight, Detective Captain Harvey Thatcher, of the Portland Police Bureau, said he received a wire from Vancouver, B.C., authorities that the men might be wanted there, but Thatcher said the wire did not explain on what charges.

Three of those taken here admitted, police said, participation in the Tacoma robbery. They are Frank Butler, alias James Spencer; Wallace Jackson and Carl Brehan. The fourth man, Perry Reynolds, denied the charge.

CHINESE BURNED TO DEATH IN SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 14 (AP).—An aged Chinese was burned to death, and approximately 200 others were endangered, late tonight, when flames swept through the headquarters of the Chinese Benevolent Association Building, one of the landmarks in Sacramento's Chinatown.

Sea Hoboes Will Hunt For Riches

COLON, April 14 (AP). — Three self-styled hoboes of the sea from New York, who have turned to treasure hunting as a cure for unemployment, will take their small sloop through the Panama Canal on Sunday, confident new adventures lie beyond.

Captain Olaf Olsen, his brother, Racine, and Mathew Borys, left New York on February 4 in their boat, the Driftwood.

Out of work, young and unmarried, they are seeking fortunes they think are buried in far-off Cocos Island.

Already they have gone through storms and a near shipwreck; undaunted, however, they were completing repairs to the craft tonight.

ARGENTINA ACCEPTS

BUENOS AIRES, April 14 (AP). —Chancellor Saavedra Lamas instructed Ambassador Espil to inform the Government in Washington that Argentina accepts the invitation of the United States for economic conferences with American statesmen. A delegate will be appointed.

LIBERALS WILL CONVENE HERE

Four Candidates for Provincial Election to Be Named on April 22

Victoria Liberals will hold a nominating convention in the city on Saturday, April 22, the anniversary of the Second Battle of Ypres. Four candidates will be chosen to carry Liberal colors in the Victoria riding at the next provincial election. The nominating convention will be held at the Shrine auditorium, where accommodation is available for 750 persons, with an active campaign announced to start immediately afterwards.

The convention will be open to members of the Victoria Liberal Association who hold their 1933 membership cards. This, it is expected, will not include the insurgent group that recently challenged the election of officers in the local association, and petitioned for a review of those results.

MEMBERSHIP CARDS

Membership cards may be acquired from ward presidents, including T. B. Veitch, C. Axhorn, J. L. White, J. Casey, C. G. White, C. W. Stocker and Arthur Cox, the last named being secretary of the central association. Application for membership cards will be received up to 8 o'clock on April 19.

Twenty-eight persons are unofficially mentioned as among those approached to accept nomination in the Victoria riding, as follows: John Hart, Alderman W. H. Kinsman, Alderman W. D. Todd, H. H. Clearihue, Alderman A. Peden, M. B. Jackson, K.C., F. M. McGregor, Carew Martin, H. M. McGivern, H. M. Diggon, A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., R. J. Jamieson, Stephen Jones, James Fletcher, and Byron Johnson.

British Columbia Leads Provinces In Curbing Costs

Nearly One-Third Sliced From Annual Outlays, Without Additional Taxation on Average Citizen—Wide Powers Given Cities

TO a far greater extent than any other province in Canada, British Columbia has sliced its expenditures and held down taxation this year. The reduction is from $29,214,000 actually spent from revenue in 1931-32 to little over $19,750,000 as estimated outlay from revenue this year, or $22,729,000 gross estimated expenditures, including some $3,000,000 in sinking funds from revenues. The average citizen will not pay one dollar more in new taxation, spokesmen for the Government assert.

In some provinces the 1 per cent tax on salaries and wages has been increased to 2 per cent. In British Columbia it remains unchanged at 1 per cent. Special commodity taxes have been proposed in one province, together with reduction in exemption under ordinary income imposts. In British Columbia, there is a surtax on incomes, affecting very few people; a surtax on succession duties, which still leaves British Columbia duties payable at less than in other provinces; and no increase in the general rates to be paid by the average citizens.

Reduced taxation was granted in British Columbia on lands outside organized areas for school rates, the reduction being from five mills to two mills; and the amusement tax on amateur sports meets and community dances was cut from 10 to 5 per cent.

Relief measures have been passed affecting irrigated lands, timber operations and timber licencees, mineral claims, and also extending a broad measure of authority to municipalities to make things easier for taxpayers in default; as well as continuation of the general moratorium law affecting principal sums in certain classes of loans.

City councils have been given a

LORD ALLENBY IS CENTRE OF STORM

Veiled Moslem Women Parade in Jerusalem in Protest Against Y.M.C.A.

JERUSALEM, April 14 (AP). — Numbers of veiled Moslem women staged a demonstration today against Lord Allenby, leader of Great Britain's forces at Palestine in the Great War, on account of his activities in connection with the Y.M.C.A., which Moslem quarters here regard as a missionary organization.

They formed a long procession which marched through the streets of the old city to the Mosque of Oreq, where speeches were made. Arab newspapers have been attacking Lord Allenby for the past few days for the same reason. Lord Allenby is in Palestine on a special mission to dedicate a new Y.M.C.A. building in Jerusalem which cost £208,000. He is to speak at the dedication service on Tuesday

CREW WILL PAY BILLS

Expenses in Connection With Model Display Guaranteed at Meeting

The crew of the Thermopylae spent their sixth dog-watch together during the week, and an interesting watch it was. Calling the crew to order, the skipper sent for the cook, and had him show the model of the bark Nanette, which, with the vessel it represented, was wrecked on Race Rocks, December 23, 1860. Among the wreckage which floated ashore at that time, the then lighthouse keeper found the model exhibited. Made by one of the crew, it is about three feet long, well proportioned, and was rigged as far as the lower masts before the wreck occurred.

The lighthouse keeper evidently rigged it further, and changed the name to that of his wife, although the original name is still under the newer nameplate. The masts and yards are broken now, and the model looks like the big ship must have looked when it came ashore years ago.

After the model was studied, Able Seaman Garrard gave an account of the Blue Funnel 8s. Phemius while in a cyclone in the Caribbean Sea, last November. Captain MacDonald then told of his experience when homeward bound to Leith in the ship Ardencraig, of 1,969 tons register. Then Able Seaman Blandy read an amusing description of an amateur yachtsman from his wife's point of view, which was not at all flattering.

INTERESTING POEM

Varying the proceedings, an old English poem dating back to the fifteenth century, and describing a voyage in one-masted ship, was read by the super-cargo. It would appear as though Father Neptune took toll from the travelers on his domain in those far-away times, just as he does today.

The proposed exhibition of ships' models and ships' pictures originated some discussion, when it was pointed out by the super-cargo that certain expenses in connection with such an exhibition would be unavoidable. When finally put to the crew after an estimate had been made, it was unanimously agreed that the Thermopylae would foot the bills. In connection with the exhibition, it was decided to give a short lecture, with lantern slides, once a day while the exhibition lasted. In connection with the model and picture display, the matter of approaching the Hudson's Bay Company for a loan of their models on the same occasion, was suggested, and the suggestion will be acted upon.

Before the gathering turned in, Ableseaman Longstaff showed a fine series of lantern slides of various sailing and steam craft belonging to both the naval and mercantile class.

PROTEST AGAINST DUAL POSITIONS

Saanich Ratepayers Will Urge Discharging of Married Teachers With Husbands Employed

Employment of married women teachers by the Saanich School Board was vigorously protested by ratepayers of Ward Seven at a meeting last night, when a delegation was appointed to voice the meeting's opinion to the board.

Several speakers expressed their views on the subject, the chief point of objection being the fact that married teachers were employed whose husbands also held positions, and these posts might be given to instructors in greater need. It was stated that exceptions to these cases had been made before and the board had taken no action, but it was felt that personal protests might prove more effective.

In some cases, it was agreed at the meeting, the employment of the wife might be overlooked, owing to the fact that the husband was unemployed. It was stated, however, that in one or two cases, the wife was given a position when the husband was also employed in order to bring in sufficient salary as might be required for living purposes.

The delegation which will meet the board includes the following members: E. Wilkinson, president; James Pickard, secretary, and H. H. Grist.

Other business of the meeting included the appointment of several committees to take charge of a dance which the association will sponsor in the Mount View High School auditorium in the near future to raise funds for providing needy children with shoes and other necessary clothing. Further information concerning the date of the affair will be announced later.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LEADS PROVINCES IN CURBING COSTS

new voice in the question of school costs, through negotiation and arrangement with school boards, on the aggregate cost of ordinary school expenditures; and some councils have already exercised this privilege.

While provincial grants in aid of municipal costs are to be reduced, they will be within $1,500,000 of what the total was last year, or not far from $5,000,000 in all, it is stated. Disbursements from provincial funds in 1931 under this head totaled some $7,350,000, or a quarter of all provincial outlays.

Most of the loan bill for $10,000,000 will go to make up the difference between what was spent and what was received on provincial account in the last complete fiscal year, chiefly on account of unemployment relief; while $3,000,000 of the sum is for relief purposes continuing. There will be no borrowings for new purposes, it has been stated.

LOANS RETURNABLE

British Columbia will spend $6,980,374 this year on account of public debt, and the guarantee of no new borrowings is perhaps its best advertisement. Use of the "collective power of the people" to borrow on public credit could be made to provide large sums for new expenditures; but for every $1,000,000 so borrowed, about $3,000,000 has one day to be returned. Taxation is the chief source from which such loans may be repaid, and latent realization of this is becoming more general.

When it sliced nearly a third out of its expenditures for the current year, the Province set a mark that few other Provinces in Canada may reach this year, and none at the present time of writing. The fact has not gone unnoticed in the East, where British Columbia has lately received much favorable comment.

our company, and the largest ever installed in Russia. I left Moscow with special orders from my office to give them my personal attention because none of our switches ever has broken down, and we wanted to be sure of these. Although it meant much work for me, I supervised every part of the work for the sake of my reputation and that of my firm." The switches, he added, each weighed forty-five tons. There were three of them and the installation took forty-eight days.

"I leave it to the technical experts here (he pointed to several experts seated near the judge) as to whether I did that work in proper time or whether a shorter time would have been enough for the quality of the work."

NOT INTERESTED

Gregory also replied to a charge made by Siebert that he had spread anti-Soviet propaganda at Dniprostov.

"I don't speak Russian," the little Welshman said, "and the only interpreter there spoke English so badly it took enough of my time to make them understand what I wanted without discussing Russian politics, in which I am not interested anyway."

Another Russian witness, L. A. Sukoruchkin, manager of the main Moscow station and one of the eleven Russians who have pleaded guilty to similar charges to those facing the Englishmen, charged that L. C. Thornton, Metro-Vickers engineer, organized a plot which in case of war would have paralyzed the large Moscow electric station serving the Kremlin, important factories and powerful wireless stations. On several occasions charges that the Englishmen attempted to secure agreement to paralyse plants in event of war have been made during the trial.

For his work, Thornton, said the Russian, had paid him 25,000 paper and 350 gold rubles. The old gold ruble was worth 51 cents.

Thornton promptly denied the charge.

AN ALLEGED BRIBE

One of the Russian witnesses, who testified he had received bribes from the Englishmen, was A. T. Lobanov, chief of the electrical department of the Ivanovo Power Station. He brought the name of Charles Nordwell, another of the British defendants, into the testimony for the first time in connection with an alleged bribe of 5,000 rubles. So far W. T. Macdonald, Thornton, Gregory and Monkhouse have been implicated.

Lobanov admitted he had entertained anti-Soviet ideas and had complained to Nordwell about low standards of living in the Soviet. "If you want to improve your condition," he quoted Nordwell as telling him, "you must act now. You must cause important damange so that Russia will have to spend more gold. Above all you must be sure that this power plant is paralyzed in case of war."

THUNDERS HIS DENIAL

Nordwell, a blonde giant, who speaks Russian with a pronounced accent, entered a blanket denial, his voice at times over-riding the interjections of the court. "I never gave him money, and I never said a word to him about damage or about war," Nordwell testified. Nordwell warmly told the court, "All this evidence is absolutely untrue. I didn't bribe and I didn't plot against the Soviet."

ARREST GANG IN PORTLAND

WOMEN ARRESTED

The arrested women gave their names as Juanita Miller, Thelma Travers, Ethel Benton and Harriet Short. Miss Miller was ordered held as a fugitive from Tacoma, and Thelma Travers and Ethel Benton were ordered held for the district attorney's office here. No charge had been placed against Miss Short.

Immediately after the arrests, Butler, Jackson, Brehan, Miss Miller and Miss Short were rushed to Vancouver, Wash., and lodged in the jail there to avoid extradition claims. Reynolds, Miss Travers and Miss Benton were being held here in the city jail.

BANDIT IDENTIFIED

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP).—Carl Brehan, alias "Bingo," twenty-eight, held in custody in Portland, Oregon, has been identified as one of two bandits who participated in the hold-up of employees of the Empire Stevedoring Company here on April 7, when the payroll of $7,200, Identification, police here state, was made this afternoon from photographs by H. Drinkwater, of the paymaster's staff of the stevedoring company, and Colonel R. D. Williams, harbor commissioner, who happened on the scene while the robbery was being carried out and who was threatened by one of the bandits' guns.

AGE-OLD INQUIRY TO BE ANSWERED

Dr. G. B. Switzer Will Deal With Query, "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?"

"The Message of Easter" will be Dr. Gerald Breen Switzer's morning topic tomorrow at Oak Bay United Church. Mrs. C. E. McNeill will be the soloist, and the choir, under the direction of W. H. Ruffell, will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," by Handel, and "Break Forth Into Joy," by Barnby. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the close of the service.

"If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?" is the age-old Easter query Dr. Switzer will face at the evening service. Can an intelligent, thinking, scientifically-minded man of our da, sincerely believe in immortality? will be answered. A double quartette will sing "Christ, Our Passover," by Goss, and the anthems will be "Awake Up My Glory," by Simper, and "God Hath Appointed a Day," by F. W. Peace.

Major M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett will be the Obypa Club speaker on Tuesday evening. He will give an illustrated lecture on "The West Indies." Harold Gelling will give the opening meditation, "Is the Universe Purposeful?"

SAFETY AND ACCIDENT PREVENTION KEYNOTE OF REGIONAL MEETING

MONTREAL, April 14. — Safety and accident prevention will be the keynote of the regional meetings of the American Railway Association, Safety Section, held at the Windsor Hotel, here, today. The morning session was presided over by A. O. Beck, director of first aid and accident prevention of the Canadian National Railways, and the afternoon session was under the chairmanship of F. R. Haney, chief claims adjuster of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Prominent speakers in connection with safety work on Canadian and United States railways addressed the gatherings, and during the meetings attention will be focused on the best means of preventing accidents to employees, passengers and to the general public. Exhibits of safety devices are a feature of the meetings and include a display of goggles, loaned by the Pullman Company, which was recently shown at Buffalo, where it attracted considerable attention from railway men.

Other regional meetings of the Safety Section, A.R.A., are being held during the year at Boston, Buffalo, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Atlanta, New Orleans, Fort Worth, St. Paul, Los Angeles and Memphis, and each of these are one-day sessions similar to that in Montreal.

Is Sentenced for Stench-Bombing

TORONTO, April 14 (CP).—Describing the offence as most reprehensible, Judge Field, in county court, sentenced William Rosborough to six months' imprisonment, and a further period of six months failing payment of a $500 fine, on a charge of conspiring in connection with the stench-bombing of a local theatre.

Towed Into Port Disabled by Gale

BOSTON, April 14 (AP).—The steamer Malang, helpless thirty-six hours in the teeth of a northeast gale, found safe haven tonight as she was towed into port by the coastguard cutter Ossipee.

Wednesday night the Malang was disabled by a broken main tail shaft. Her appeal for help brought the Ossipee.

CONGRESS WILL CONSIDER PLAN

Action on Seaway Treaty Ratification to Be Taken This Session

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP). — Action on the St. Lawrence seaway treaty ratification, accompanied by legislation to give definite Federal recognition to New York state's power claims, was reported at the White House today, to have been put on the calendar of the present session of Congress.

The treaty between the United States and Canada, providing joint development of a seaway in the international section of the St. Lawrence, was signed in July, 1932. The treaty, sent to the Senate for ratification recently was reported favorably by the Senate foreign relations committee.

NEW YORK'S CLAIM

New York state, renewing its twenty-year-old claim on the hydro-electric power of the international stream, has requested, through its power authority that this claim be recognized formally by an act of Congress simultaneously with ratification of the treaty.

Broadly, the legislation, understood already to be in course of preparation, first would give recognition to the power rights of the state, and second, would prohibit forever any chance of private interests acquiring the power site or rights.

Sacred Cantata Sung for First Time by Choir

For the first time in Victoria, J. Eliot Trowbridge's beautiful sacred cantata, "God With Us," was sung last night at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church by the choir and four soloists. Interpreted in a most reverent mood, the cantata followed a brief service, during which the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, gave a short discourse on "The Seven Last Words of Christ," during which he conveyed anew an idea of the deeper significance of the utterances which have been the theme of much Lenten and Good Friday music. He also gave a brief outline of the cantata music. Only two of the three parts of this were presented last night, these bearing on the subject of the advent and crucifixion, or from the time of Christ's birth to His death.

Showing great care in preparation, the choruses were sung with restraint and nice balance, among them being "And Thou Bethlehem," "Salvation Belongs to the Lord," and the closing chorus of Part II, "Truly This Is the Son of God," all most expressively rendered.

OTHER NUMBERS

Other beautiful numbers in the cantata were, "Now Jesus Was Born in Judea," "Now Lettest Thou Thy Servant Depart in Peace," "Glory to God in the Highest," "Come Unto Me, All Ye That Labor," "And Jesus Taught Daily in the Temple," "And There Appeared Unto Him," and "Behold, There Was One," and the impressive quartette, "Lo, the Angel of the Lord." The four soloists sang with sincerity, being Miss Isobel Crawford, soprano; Mrs. F. W. Hawe, contralto; William Draper, tenor, and Arnold W. Trevett, baritone, all assisting in giving an impressive reading of the beautiful devotional work. Jesse Longfield, organist and choirmaster, showed his customary musicianship at the console.

The third (or Ascension and Resurrection) part of the cantata will be sung at the evening service tomorrow.

Josef Hofman To Tour Europe

Josef Hofmann, according to his manager, Richard Copley, will devote part of next season to concertizing in Europe, where he has not played for some years. October, November and part of December have been allotted for the European engagements, after which time he will return to the United States early in January, 1934, opening a coast to coast tour, which will continue until April or May.

For many years Mr. Hofmann has been receiving invitations to play in every part of the world, not only from Europe, but from South America, Mexico, China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia. This coming Fall he finds it convenient to play in Great Britain, Belgium, France, Holland, Germany, Austria and Scandinavia. Within the next few years Mr. Hofmann hopes to play in all of the other countries. In former European tours he invariably visited Russia, where he established a record of twenty recitals played in one season in old St. Petersburg.

Mr. Hofmann's present tour closed with his Town Hall, New York, recital on the evening of April 11, for the benefit of the Town Hall Endowment Fund. On the tour just concluded, he visited cities in the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Ohio, Kentucky, California, Arizona, Oklahoma and Massachusetts and Canada.

School Teachers To Get Their Pay

CHICAGO, April 14 (CP).—Chicago's 14,000 school teachers and other school employees will receive pay cheques tomorrow for their services last June, ten months late. Announcement of the pay day was made today by Orville J. Taylor, president of the School Board. It was made possible, he said, by the election of Edward J. Kelly as mayor yesterday.

TO GREET NEW CARDINAL

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, planned to leave here early tomorrow morning for Quebec to participate in the welcome to Cardinal Villeneuve, who is returning from Rome. His eminence arrived at New York today.

Manitoban Ex-Governor Has Passed

WINNIPEG, April 14 (CP).—Public servant of Manitoba since he came to Western Canada in 1870 to aid in suppressing the Riel Rebellion, Sir Daniel McMillan, former Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, died here today after a brief illness. He was eighty-eight years old.

Born in Whitby, Ont., Daniel McMillan served on the Niagara front in 1864 before he came West. After the Riel Rebellion he settled in Western Canada and established the first grist mill in Winnipeg. He was associated with the grain business all his life.

EMMANUEL CHOIR RENDERS CANTATA

Gives Fine Presentation of "Olivet to Calvary" (Maunder) at Fernwood Church

Displaying a depth of feeling in the soft passages and swelling in the crescendos with magnificent volume and tone, Emmanuel Baptist Choir gave an impressive rendition of Maunder's cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," at the church last night. The solo parts were taken with sympathy and expression, and the choruses, sung by the whole choir, were particularly good. G. H. E. Green directed the cantata.

Perhaps one of the outstanding choruses was "Crucify Him," which gave the choir full scope for its power of expression. Another especially beautiful part is the soprana solo and chorus, "Droop Sacred Head." Miss Netta Parfitt rendered the solo in an effective manner, and the chorus by the whole choir held the audience spellbound.

The bass solo, "Come Unto Him," with unaccompanied chorus, was another part that stood out. Frederick Parfitt took the solo in a pleasing manner. The three-part recitative with tenor, baritone and soprano solos andthe whole chorus, "In the Temple," also appealed particularly, and was effectively sung. One of the most beautiful parts in the whole cantata was the tenor solo, "Before Jerusalem," rendered by James Oakman.

The four soloists were: Soprano, Miss Netta Parfitt; tenor, James Oakman; baritone, Harold Parfitt, and bass, Frederick Parfitt. Winnifred Scowscroft was at the organ and Mrs. G. H. E. Green at the piano. Before the cantata, a cornet solo, "There Is a Green Hill Far Away," was rendered by G. H. E. Green, conductor of the choir.

NEW CHIEF IN OFFICE

Alexander Munroe Faces Problem of Bringing Fire Dept. Budget Down

Alexander Munroe today sets aside his insignia of deputy fire chief for that of chief, while his predecessor, Chief Vernon W. Stewart, will start his annual leave, after which he will be retired on superannuation at his own request.

Chief Munroe is a native of Scotland, having been born in Banff. He came to this country in 1907 and to Victoria in 1908. He was appointed to the fire department staff in 1909 and quickly won promotion, going through the various ratings until he achieved the position of captain in 1914, holding this rank until 1918, when he was appointed deputy chief when Vernon Stewart was made head of the department.

DEPARTMENT BUDGET

The new chief is taking office during a critical period in the city's financial history, and has been asked to bring in recommendations whereby the fire department budget may be cut to $146,000. This task has been made particularly hard by virtue of the fact that he has been asked to do so without closing any of the fire halls, unless in the case of the last resort.

It is understood that no deputy will be appointed in his place, but that certain promotions to captains and lieutenants will follow.

The fire wardens, it was learned at the City Hall, are desirous of having a similar system of ranking as that in vogue on the city police force.

ANCIENT CUSTOM REVIVED BY POPE

Personally Carries Sacrament to Tabernacle—Churches of Rome Mourn Death of Christ

ROME, April 14 (AP).—Sombre black and purple coverings hid the statues and crucifixes in Rome's 400 churches tonight and the priceless works of art in St. Peter's. The Roman Catholic world mourned the death of Christ.

To signify the confusion of nature over the sad event of 1,900 years ago, priests banged with their prayerbooks on the kneeling benches of the Vatican Basilica. Cardinal Pacelli, Papal Secretary of State, presided over Good Friday services there.

The Pope earlier in the day said Mass in the Sistine Chapel. He revived an old custom by personally carrying the Blessed Sacrament to its tabernacle after it had been exposed in the Pauline Chapel. It was the first time in sixty-three years that a pope had performed this ceremony.

Good Friday Is Quietly Observed by Victorians

Churches Attract Large Congregations for Devotional Services—Cantatas in Evening—Recreation Forms Part of First of Season's Holidays

Ideal weather greeted Victorians yesterday for the first public holiday of the Spring and Summer season, and citizens, governed by their desires, spent the day of religious observance in various ways.

The warm sunshine was a strong invitation to while away the hours in favorite out-of-door haunts and long hikes, while others were content to stroll leisurely among the budding trees and foliage of the city's parks to glimpse Spring's awakening.

CHURCH SERVICES

At temple, shrine and church, citizens paused to worship at the foot of the Cross, as reverently, in sermon and musical settings, the story of Christ's crucifixion was unfolded to the multitude. Holy Day services were conducted in many of the city churches during the morning and afternoon, with sacred cantatas in the evening. The Victoria Ministerial Association combined in a public service of worship at the Reformed Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock in the morning, which was largely attended.

At St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral, Pontifical High Mass was celebrated, followed by other services in observance of the day. In practically all of the Anglican churches in the city and district, services were conducted by the ministers, with good attendances. A special Good Friday service was held in St. John's Church and was conducted by Most Rev. A. U. De Pencier, D.D., Archbishop of Westminster and Metropolitan of British Columbia. The service commenced at 12 noon and concluded at 3 o'clock. Three-hour devotional services were also held at Christ Church Cathedral and St. Barnabas' Church. The Lutheran churches also observed the day with special services of devotion.

SACRED PRESENTATIONS

During the evening a series of sacred cantatas, recitals and choral presentations were given in many of the churches. These included St. Mary's Choir, with a presentation of "Olivet to Calvary"; sacred cantata at Emmanuel Baptist; sacred oratorio, "God With Us," at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; Passion cantata, "The Darkest Hour," by Metropolitan Church Choir; Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary," at St. John's Church, and the choral offering, "The Story of the Cross," at St. Luke's Church.

Services of prayer were also conducted in some of the churches in the evening.

While the devotional services attracted large congregations, the day was not wholly confined to one of worship and although the majority of the citizens attended at least one of the many services, the out-of-door activities had a strong appeal to them, and sports and other athletic events were staged under pleasant conditions. These included road race, bicycle race, league football matches, both junior and senior cup matches, qualifying rounds in the British Columbia amateur golf championships and the championship basketball tilt at the Willows, the premier sporting event of the season.

MAINLAND VISITORS

Provided with all the requirements of a holiday, Victoria citizens did not wander far from the hearth, although the long "week-end" offered opportunities for travel. But Mainland folk, not so plenteously endowed with the finer things of nature, came across the Gulf by steamer to the Capital City, both morning and afternoon steamers being well patronized. Those who enjoy the bracing atmosphere of a spin along paved highways journeyed Up-Island by automobile and to other points of interest along the district's network of thoroughfares.

The afternoon and evening performances at the picture theatres were well attended, specially holiday programmes being arranged for the patrons.

In all, the season's first holiday was well spent and came as a welcome break after the dull and chilly days of Winter and early Spring.

Anglo-Saxon History Will Be Discussed

W. H. Blackaller will address the Victoria British-Israel Association on Tuesday at 8 o'clock, when the subject will be "If Anglo-Saxondom Is Not the Descendants of Israel, What Nation Is?" The address is under the auspices of the Federation of Canada, Maccabees' Hall, 724 Fort Street.

"IT IS SLIMMING ME!"

18 lbs. Gone—Backache Gone Too!

PLEASANT SURPRISE FROM KRUSCHEN

She wouldn't believe it—but the scales insisted! You see she did not take Kruschen Salts with the idea of ridding herself of that superfluous fat. She had backache—and that was what she was treating. So she killed two birds with one stone.

This is what she wrote about it:—"Allow me to send you a few words to tell you that Kruschen Salts has done wonders for me. My backache has gone, and what is more, Kruschen is slimming me down in a way that I would never believe, if it wasn't for the fact that the scales show 18 pounds less in six months. This is entirely due to Kruschen Salts, and I shall never be without them."—J. F.

The condition which caused this woman to put on weight was also the cause of her backache. The whole trouble was due to the internal organs failing to expel from the body, regularly and completely, the waste products of digestion.

The combination of natural salts in Kruschen assists the internal organs to perform their functions properly—to throw off each day the wastage and poisons that encumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The backache and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

The Victoria and Island branch of the association will hold a reunion dinner at Spencer's dining-room on Saturday, April 22, at 6:45 p.m., almost exactly on the anniversary of the first poison gas attack of the war.

Original members of the Fifth Regiment, 88th Fusiliers, 50th Gordon Highlanders, the Corps of Guides, the Canadian Signal Corps, and other details who formed part of the First Canadian Division, together with Imperials and those from other Empire forces, will join in marking the event.

The Victoria and Island branch of the association has approximately 100 members of a fast-dwindling band who took part in the engagement, within a few days of the great stand made by the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry on the other side of the salient at Hill Sixty.

Arrangements are in the hands of Major P. T. Stern, honorary secretary of the local branch, and a good turnout is expected.

WILL PREACH ON EASTER SUBJECTS

St. Andrew's Minister on "House of Many Mansions"—Choir Will Complete Cantata

The services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tomorrow will be appropriate to Easter Day. There will be special music by the choir, and the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, will preach in the morning on "The House of Many Mansions" (John xiv, 2), and in the evening on "The Image of the Heavenly" (I Cor. xv, 35-49).

In the morning, the soloist will be Miss Isabelle Crawford, who will sing "The Resurrection Morn," by Rodney. The choir will sing Stainer's anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord." In the evening Mrs. F. W. Hawes and Arnold W. Trevett will sing as a duet "Hosanna," by Granier. The choir will sing Simper's anthem, "King of Kings," and for the latter part of the service will sing Part III of the sacred cantata, "God With Us," by Trowbridge.

WILL HOLD JOINT EASTER SERVICES

At the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, the First Spiritualist Church and Spiritual Science Temple, will hold joint Easter services on Sunday. There will be open circle at 3 o'clock, and at 7:30 addresses by Rev. Flora Frampton, Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Blacket. Flower messages will be given by Mrs. Frampton and Mrs. Burny, with solos by Mrs. Charles Muir and Mr. Glover.

On Easter Monday a social evening will be held at Spiritual Science Temple, Douglas Street, with a programme of games, etc. Open circle and social hour on Thursday, at 8 o'clock, will be held at 528 Michigan Street.

Crossing Ocean Together

TRAVELING companions on the Ss. Champlain are little Velma Josephine Wells, of Toronto, and Fritz, a prize dog belonging to Mrs. Florence Hinot, of Paris. Velma is traveling alone to her grandparents in London. Fritz also is a lonely traveler, going to his mistress in the French capital. Since they met on the vessel, just before sailing time, they formed a lasting friendship which will chase the blues away.

To Hold Eleventh Annual Sunrise Service Tomorrow

Rev. Dr. Clem Davies Will Conduct Easter Gathering at Mount Tolmie, Commencing at 7 o'Clock —Special Transportation Arrangements

The Easter Sunrise Service, originated by Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, on Easter Sunday, 1923, on Mount Tolmie, will be held tomorrow at 7 a.m. on Mount Tolmie. This will be the eleventh successive service. The Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade Band, under the direction of Charles Raine, will play the music for the hymns, the following being in the order of service: Easter Hymn, "Hail to the Lord's Annointed," "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," "Low in the Grave He Lay" and "The Day of Resurrection."

The Easter Scripture reading will be read responsively by the congregation and minister. The episcopal form of order of service will be partly followed from the Prayer Book, with the call to repentance, the general confession and absolution.

Dr. Davies will deliver the sermon with "Immortality" as the theme. The utmost simplicity will rule the gathering for the worship. A large chorus will stand in front of the platform, below the Cross, and the Fifth Regiment Band will lead the singing, the uniforms of the bandsmen giving the only color other than that provided by nature, for the occasion.

This is universally recognized as Victoria's most widely attended religious gathering during the year, and the lateness of the Easter season this year gives promise of a record crowd. The service will begin at 7 o'clock and conclude one hour later. Cars and buses will start from all terminals at 6 a.m. An offering will be taken. Hymn books will be provided free to the multitude.

The police of the four municipalities will co-operate with Dr. Davies to render all possible aid to make the service a success.

FREE EDUCATION TO BE SUBJECT

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe Will Discuss Age Limit for Payment of School Tuition

The subject of the recent debate between teams representing the Christ Church Cathedral Senior Sunday School and the Junior Chamber of Commerce proved to be of such general interest, that the council of the Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School Society has decided to conclude the season with its natural sequence. The opportunity for this came about most fortunately. It was mooted that Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, who acted as chairman on that occasion, had shown himself sufficiently interested in the action which the Sunday school students were taking in the matter of engaging public interest in questions of both local and general importance, as to half promise at the end of the debate to see them further the question they had promoted for that evening.

In consequence of this, the minister was approached, and finally agreed to give an address on the subject: "Should There Be a Limit to Schooling Paid for Out of the Public Purse? If so, What Should That Limit Be?" This will be given at a meeting held on Friday, April 28, in the Memorial Hall, commencing at 8 p.m., with the Dean in the chair. The public is invited to give its full support. There will be no charge for admission. A collection will be taken, the proceeds to promote outside activities of the young people, which include their contributions to missions and similar work.

During his term of office as Minister of Education, Mr. Hinchliffe has given much time and thought to this question, and the public will have an opportunity, on this occasion, to hear the results of his investigations, and to form an idea of future needs and events in this important branch of public service.

Father Damien, who dedicated his life to the lepers of Molokai, has been nominated as a candidate for beatification, and eventually canonization, by the Roman Catholic Church. The case must first be brought before the Congregation of the Holy Office, and finally before the ecclesiastical court.

JUNGLE FEATURE SHOWING TODAY

Thrilling Picture Starring Buster Crabbe in the Part of the Lion Man Opens at Dominion

Taking its place as one of the best thrill pictures of the year, "King of the Jungle," opening at the Dominion Theatre today, provides great entertainment for all classes. Buster Crabbe, who possesses perfect physical proportions, plays the part of the lion man. Part of the story is laid in the African jungle, but later shifts to America.

Raiding and marauding with his lions, Crabbe is captured with them and then goes to America with a circus. There is great action in the picture and many thrills, notably the elephant stampede, when the circus is threatened by fire, and the lion man saves the animals.

Francis Dee, Ronnie Cosbey and Irving Pichel are also members of the splendid cast in the picture.

Columbia — Tom Mix in "Flaming Guns."

Dominion—"King of the Jungle," starring Buster Crabbe.

Empire—Owen Nares in "The Love Contract."

Playhouse—"Lady Panniford's Fan," featuring Herbert Marshall.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Tom Mix, who has given more stars and directors their starts than any other film star, now and then restarts some of them. In "Flaming Guns," his Universal western, playing at the Columbia Theatre, are two old favorites whom Tom has given the chance to come back. They are Bill Farnum and George Hackathorne.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Edna Best, well-known stage actress and personification of our English type of lovely womanhood, has the leading feminine role in "Lady Panniford's Folly," the British racing film, from the play by Edgar Wallace, which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. In this film she co-stars with her husband, Herbert Marshall.

EMPIRE THEATRE The fantastic story that illuminates "The Love Contract" now at the Empire Theatre, opens upon apparent notes of tragedy and despair. Tragedy quickly gives place to light-hearted merriment, and, as lady chauffeur to Neville Carrington (Owen Nares), Antoinette (Winifred Shotter) proves so efficient, useful and wilful—within the terms of their contract—that he falls in love with her. How the terms of the curious contract are observed provides really delightful entertainment.

UNION SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

Rev. E. F. Church and Other Ministers Take Part in Good Friday Gathering

Speaking before the large gathering which assembled yesterday forenoon at the union service in the Church of Our Lord, Rev. E. F. Church, pastor of the Metropolitan United Church, expressed the gratitude of other denominations to the Reformed Episcopal Church in opening its doors for the united service of Protestant churches in the city.

He took as a subject an Easter topic, quoting the words of St. Paul, "God forbid that I should glory save in the Cross of Jesus Christ, Our Lord." The preacher said that there were too many who were troubled over the trials and the afflictions of this life. If they gloried in the Cross, their future would be brightened.

It was a real cross that stood out before the church. It was not something sentimental. The rough cross, a thing in an ordinary way to be hated, had been transformed by the sacrifice of Christ into something of glory. It was a most wonderful thing that was represented in the story of the Cross.

GLORY IN THE CROSS

Mr. Church stated they gloried in the Cross because Christ had taken the place of each one on the Cross. On the Cross of Calvary the whole world was crucified.

The old rugged Cross had become something that shone brightly by the manifestation of loyalty to Christ. It should be held up not mechanically, but spiritually.

Again there was the crucifixion onto the world through service. It taught the lesson of goodwill to all. There should be a willingness to accept the task which God expected. Calamities and afflictions might come. These could be transformed by means of the Cross.

The services were conducted by Rev. A. deB. Owen. Assisting were Rev. G. A. Reynolds, who read the Old Testament lesson, and Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, who read the New Testament lesson.

Parties are here from Victoria and Vancouver, as well as other Island points, and meetings are being held daily under the direction of Ronald C. Thompson, Hertford College, Oxford.

The party here opened with a "quiet time" in the morning. This was followed by Bible study, separate group meetings, and testimony of "spiritual awakening" in the evening.

Band to Give Programme at Beacon Hill

The Victoria Musicians' Association will give an Easter band concert at Beacon Hill Park tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Bandmaster James M. Miller conducting.

This programme will be the first of a series to be given by the same organization throughout the Summer, the association having already decided, provided the necessary funds are available, to give concerts twice weekly in the park all through the warm weather. To raise the required money, a mammoth variety and musical revue will be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre, on May 8 and 9, when, in addition to the orchestra of fifty musicians, there will be a score or so of vaudeville acts.

Tomorrow afternoon's programme is to include the following numbers: "O Canada"; Easter hymn; march, "The Sun God" (Zehle); selection, "Hing Jinks" (Freeman); valse, "Casina Tanza" (Gung'l); characteristic, "Algerian Song" (Ketelbey); overture, "Euryanthe" (Weber); suite, "Espagnole" (Fulton), (a) Guadalajara, (b) Quesada, (c) Las Palmas, (d) Valencia; reverie, "The Sacred Hour" (Ketelbey); excerpts from the ballet "Les Millions d'Artequin" (Dirgo), (a) Reconciliation Polka, (b) Serenade; grand selection, "Lucia di Lammermoor" (Donizetti); march, "Soldiers' Life" (Hutberg).

AMERICAN ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Mr. Franklin Roosevelt, in the task he has set himself to restore prosperity to the United States, is encountering many problems. The original Bill for the enlistment of an army of 250,000 unemployed for reafforestation and other conservation projects has had to be partially redrafted before it could be approved by Congress. A critical spirit has arisen respecting some of the projects which Mr. Roosevelt has devised. That spirit was absent when he dealt with the bank crisis. The urgency of the danger then resulted in this being given a free hand. His freedom of action is likely to be greatly curtailed in the future.

The mood of the American people regarding Mr. Roosevelt as a potential saviour is passing. There is cooling in their enthusiasm. There are recalcitrant elements in Washington and in New York. It is obvious that the future success of the Roosevelt regime depends on the extent to which he is able to rally public opinion to his aid. Many banks have been closed through insolvency. There have been sweeping economies in the budget. The consequence has been that the period of deflation has been intensified. Depositors in various banks have suffered heavy losses. Purchasing power has been reduced; there has been a slowing down in manufacturing operations, and increased unemployment.

One method by which Mr. Roosevelt hopes to meet the situation is by substituting long-term bond issues for short-term paper. He also proposes increased public expenditures, though this seems a paradoxical policy in the face of budget economies. There is no doubt that Mr. Roosevelt has restored a measure of confidence by the manner in which he met the banking crisis. His main problem now is to foster that confidence to the extent of infusing in private individuals and in corporations the faith to spend money in putting the unemployed to work. His policy in this respect is by increased credit. There are to be loans or gifts to necessitous States. There is to be the sale to the public of some billions of dollars of bonds with the proceeds to be expended in public works. These schemes of the President are now being sharply scrutinized, and objections have arisen in some quarters. Some of his methods are regarded as unorthodox, and it is being questioned as to how far they will bring about financial and economic readjustments. There is a certain amount of radicalism in the Roosevelt platform.

The outstanding problems in the United States are these. The farmers are "drowning in debt." There are 14,000,000 unemployed. The railways are in a desperate state. There is weakness in insurance companies. The whole banking system has shown very serious defects. Mr. Roosevelt's supporters claim he has a mandate to save "a complete breakdown in the financial and economic system." Wherein his plans are being criticized is to the extent that it is possible that what he proposes will make matters worse. It is obvious that Mr. Roosevelt realizes certain shortcomings in what he proposes to save the United States internally. That process, to an extent at least, depends on international co-operation. That explains why Mr. Roosevelt is about to meet the representatives of foreign Powers and discuss with them the monetary and economic situation. He has not been long in office before realizing that American prosperity is contingent on prosperity in the world as a whole.

EXCHANGE DUMPING DUTY

The Imperial Trade Treaty between Britain and Canada came into effect at a time when the fluctuation in exchange values persisted. The Government, in an effort to right the incidence of such fluctuation, and still to give Canadian producers a measure of protection in those commodities which would be in competition with British imports, put an exchange dumping duty into effect. It is now claimed that this duty is not working sufficiently well, and ways and means are being canvassed to ascertain whereby a larger measure of exchange in commodities can be effected under the Imperial Trade Treaty.

The situation as it stands is succinctly explained as follows: Before September 21, 1931, when Britain went off the gold standard, the Canadian importer bought £100 worth of goods from the United Kingdom. He went to a Canadian bank to transmit payment and bought £100 of exchange for $486.66. After the United Kingdom suspended gold payments, the £100 of exchange could be bought for varying amounts down to $359, the low point reached on October 25, 1932. Before September 21, 1931, the Canadian Customs duty was estimated on the basis of $4.86 2-3 to the pound sterling. After that it might have been estimated at varying amounts down to $3.59 to the pound sterling, thus discriminating further against the Canadian producer.

After Britain suspended the gold standard there was no rise in production costs and selling prices in Great Britain. On the contrary, there were falling production and selling prices. The depreciation of sterling was not offset by a rise in prices in Britain, so that the loss of protection to Canadian producers became intensified. To deal with this situation an exchange dumping duty was applied. This does not apply on imported products of a class or kind not produced in Canada. In the case of imported products which are produced in Canada no exchange dumping duty is applied until sterling exchange falls below $4.40 to the pound. Thus the average dumping duty equals the difference between the average rate of exchange for any fifteen-day period and $4.40. As an example, the exchange dumping duty for the first fifteen days of March last was the difference between $4.13 and $4.40, or 27 cents on each pound sterling's worth of purchases.

The situation that has been created is this: the depreciation of sterling, while it facilitates United Kingdom shipments to Canada puts a substantial tariff, varying from 15 to 35 per cent, on Canadian goods entering the United Kingdom. It is claimed that hundreds of Canadian exporters are finding it impossible to sell their products in that market. In other words, owing to exchange values there are restrictions on trade. These cannot be removed by Canada acting alone. This country has to be guided by larger and stronger countries or suffer the penalty of much greater unemployment. This issue is one which should engage the attention of the forthcoming International Monetary Conference. Moreover, there is a possibility that the new Canadian Tariff Board will be able to find ways and means to promote greater trade and a better balance of trade between Canada and the United Kingdom.

OLD WORDS AND NEW USES

The London Times has recently called attention to the remarkable extension which has taken place in the use of certain words, sometimes known as prepositions and sometimes as adverbs. It used to be said by old-fashioned scholars that a man's knowledge of English could readily be tested by his use of such words. Elderly people can recall an old school exercise of committing to memory long lists of indeclinable particles which might, with propriety, be used along with certain adjectives, nouns, or verbs to which, it was understood, they bore a near affinity.

Thus we might be angry at a thing but with a person, bound in honor but by a contract, careful of our money and about our dress, disappointed in a thing obtained or of a thing not obtained. A man might be eager for distinction or in the pursuit of knowledge, false of heart and false to his friends, good at cricket or perhaps good for nothing. As regards verbs we might agree to a proposal but with a person, borrow either from or of a friend, conform to a rule or with someone's views, deal in wheat and with a broker, entrust anyone with a thing and a thing to anyone, fall in an attempt or of a purpose; and so on down through the alphabet, to trust in a person and to his honesty, and finally to warn a person of danger and against a fault.

It all sounds elementary and inevitable at this distance of time, but much water has flowed under the bridge in the interval. The compilers of these irreproachable lists of well-behaved parts of speech had little premonition of what the future held in store for the luckless ins and outs, ups and downs, offs and ons of the twentieth century: trying out and listening in, slipping up in an argument and failing down in an attempt, speeding up one process and slowing down another, getting a look in and canceling out, coming across with money and refusing to stand for it, shooting up the town, meeting up with people, showing them up, hauling off, and beating them up, knocking them out, and even bumping them off, in a reckless age of show downs, and blow outs, and holdups.

Should we not tell off some of our schoolmasters to think up and think out some remedy for a serious situation? It is up to them to watch out and to catch on. They should not allow the rising generation to get away with this sort of thing.

TO MY WIRELESS SET—AND THE WIDE SPACES

Fount of the fabled music of the spheres!
By what new godlike magic do you pour
From out the silent air the mighty roar
Of joyous cymbals, or the plaintive tears,
The lyric love songs, or the horrid fears
Of those who dwell upon some distant shore?
Have you the present only in your store,
Or can you give us back the byegone years?

Perhaps some night, when all the world's asleep,
Orpheus will play to me, Catullus sigh;
Not fashioned echo, but across the deep
Abyss of years Jove's very voice may cry:
Perhaps some shepherd, sitting midst his sheep,
May sing me ancient songs of Arcady.
—John J. Withers, in The Cambridge Review.

SEA GULLS

For one carved instant as they flew,
The language had no simile—
Silver, crystal, ivory
Were tarnished. Etched upon the horizon blue,
The frieze must go unchallenged, for the lift
And carriage of the wings stain the drift
Of stars against a tripic indigo
Or dull the parable of snow.

Now settling one by one
Within green hollows or where curled
Crests caught the spectrum from the sun,
A thousand wings are furled.
No clay-born lilies of the world
Could blow as free
As those wild orchids of the sea.
—E. J. Pratt, in The London Mercury.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The classic days, those mothers of romance,
That roused a nation for a woman's alience,
The age of mystery, with its hoarded power,
That girt the tyrant in his storied tower,
Have passed and faded like a dream of youth,
And Leper arms ask for history's truth.
—Holmes.

We met a gentleman the other day who was frankly critical of the general contents of this part of The Colonist. It is characteristic human nature, and it is particularly characteristic of that section of human nature which is British, that the views of one individual are not invariably shared by every other individual. That is why under our system of government there is always a party which supports the administration of the day and a party which opposes it. Indeed, occasionally under stress of circumstances there may be several parties which oppose the Government and when even the several opposing parties may be split into sectional parties, and the political conditions may become somewhat chaotic. Those conditions prevail at the present time in British Columbia.

* * *

Politics has been authoritatively defined as the science of government, but, viewing the political conditions by and large, and not restricting the view to the provincial domain, political science does not seem to have been developed into an exact science. That is the condition which makes politics an interesting subject of comment. Our critic from Toronto, however, does not believe readers of the newspapers are interested in politics. That belief would seem to be an indication that our mentor from Toronto is not an ordinary, but must be an exceptional man. Being merely an ordinary man, we are deeply interested in politics, have been deeply interested in politics ever since the day we read our first political editorial in a Canadian newspaper.

* * *

After all, what is politics apart from the fact that it has been erroneously defined as the science of government. It is current history. It is a living and vital thing, differing in that respect from ancient history, which, while it may teach valuable lessons, is of little interest except to a few individuals who have had exceptional educational advantages under the British educational system. The late Lord Balfour, a man of some eminence in his day, has said that at school he learned little Latin and less Greek, because he was more interested in current literature than in what is called the classics. That is to say, he was interested in the affairs of living nations and living men, not in the affairs of men who were not only dead, but whose language also was dead.

* * *

In giving his reasons why we should cut out all reference to politics, our critic cited two cases. One case was that of a columnist who once was a contributor to The Toronto Mail and the other case was that of Isaac Disraeli. Both of those men, we were told, were very learned fellows, and so versatile that they could write innumerable columns and several books without sullying the paper with "dirty" politics. The name under which the Toronto columnist wrote was "The Flaneur," and we remember reading many of his articles and wondering at the fathomless depth of his general knowledge. But, unless we are mistaken, "The Flaneur" only contributed to his paper an article or two every week, and therefore must have had an abundance of time to "read up" and refresh his memory. Isaac Disraeli was a wealthy man and wrote for the pleasure he found in the game. We believe one of the books Isaac wrote was called "Curiosities of Literature," or something of the kind. No doubt that work had some vogue in its day, but we doubt whether either the columns of "The Flaneur" or the essays of Disraeli would increase measurably the popularity of The Colonist if published as serials on this page.

* * *

Whatever we may think of our politicians, there is this to be said of them: they are making history. And they are making a history which may prove of more importance to the world than the tabletic annals of the ancient Babylonians or the more flexible records of the Greeks or the Romans. There are events pending at the present time which may alter the political and business aspect of the whole world, and how can these things be commented upon without discussing the politics, or even the morals and character, of the men who are chiefly instrumental in developing and directing them? We cannot keep the Premier of Canada or the leader of the Opposition out of the picture. Although the policies of those two men may appear to be diverse and their principles irreconcilable, the destiny of this Dominion is for the moment in their keeping or under their direction. And whatever we may think of the politics of the United States, out of that extraordinary welter there appears to have emerged a great man who is cutting out of a jungle new paths for his country. The coming Washington Conference, although its membership will be composed of politicians, if it should be even measurably successful, will mark the beginning of a revolution of greater import to the world than the American Revolution. Anyhow, we cannot quite get away from politics. And we believe that most of the readers of newspapers are interested in politics. If they are not, they should be.

'Slams and Salaams'

By H. T. M.

What happens in qualifying rounds? Why do so many golfers putt twice as far as their customary drives, and drive half as far as their customary putts—and why (so often), does some vague person who has never before been known to smack a golf ball farther than a moth could kick a football, why, I ask, does this quaint creature so often appear in a championship qualifying round, and enrage everybody by whizzing over the course with a nonchalant "ten under par"? I'm not saying (not even insinuating), that this happened yesterday in the qualifying round for the "B.C." Open—but, during a short time spent there, I noticed at least a dozen of the "big shots" poking balls into bunkers and broom bushes with the greatest of skill and abandon. However, golf, even on a mellow, somnolent day, can oft be a satanical sort of game—so how anybody can even think about getting "threes" and "fours" in a cryptic, finger-freezing wind, is a mystery. So, since there was a wind at Oak Bay yesterday that caused plus-fours to rattle and belly like the sails of a "square-rigger" in difficulties—well, salaams to anyone that turned in a card of under three hundred and fifty!

Lots of people say "Golf's so terribly expensive!" Well, maybe it is—but it's not half of one iota as expensive as Tennis! viz., a tightly-strung racquet (which costs about twenty dollars), lasts about three weeks; then, into the shop it goes for restringing to the tune of a negligible ten bucks. Four balls (about 45 cents each), last, at the outside, on a hard court, for three sets, and on a gross court, they last about seven or eight. So, on a hard court, about an hour's play costs over a dollar and a half in balls alone—which is most annoying! It's bilge, too, because the tennis ball of today is practically identical with the ball of thirty years ago. Tennis, then, was merely a matter of "pooping" a ball into or over the net, and under those gentle circumstances a ball would last well into eternity. But today, Tennis is a hard-hitting, strenuous performance, and when a hard-hit ball contacts the surface of the court, the friction is terrific, and in less than no time the fuzz is all worn off. And it's the fuzz that counts. A tennis ball, sans fuzz, is useless, and there's nothing more heartrending than staring at four fuzzless ones and thinking, "Well, an hour ago you were all nice fuzzy little balls, but now, although there's 95 per cent of you still intact, nevertheless, you're useless! So, over the fence you go! Golf balls don't dissolve into paste after an hour's play, neither do footballs, "squash" balls or any other kind. Why don't Tennis ball manufacturers give the matter a little attention and produce a ball that can even half stand up to modern play? (Well, why should they? It's much pleasanter for them as it is. Naturally!).

Salaams to the Salvage King for its quick work in scooping up the President Madison. There was quite a fuss about the Salvage King having anything to do with that job, but, somehow or other (in spite of a Canadian outfit showing them "how to do it"), the local vessel remained there and did its work, and fooled the speculations of the wise-guys re the time it would take to do it.

Salaams also to Glen Robbins, of Elk Lake, who yesterday won the Moody Cup for the annual fifteen-mile bicycle race around Beacon Hill, and a word for Morris Robinson, of Vancouver, who, despite tire trouble and all sorts of setbacks, eventually finished second—only to be disqualified by a local ruling.

And while the bicycle race was in progress, Ray Kersey, another local boy, was cantering over the eight-and-one-half-mile Britannia Branch race road, which he conquered in fifty-one minutes, fifty-two seconds. (And Dave Garbutt, of Duncan, was only four seconds behind him! Was that a close finish?).

She: Oh, good! You've asked father?

He: No, dear. I've just been in an auto smash.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A STUDY IN DISTRIBUTION

Knowledge of the distribution of the cards in the various suits is almost always of tremendous value to the declarer, and quite frequently to the defending players in the play of close hands and bridge. Beginning with the bidding and confirmed by the opening lead, the hand patterns begin to unfold as the play proceeds, and the bridge player who mechanically goes ahead with the play of the hand without taking advantage of the information he obtains as to how the various suits are divided is failing to avail himself of one of the most effective measures for the making of a doubtful contract available to bridge players.

In the recent Eastern Championship Tournament, played in New York City, the last event was that for mixed teams-of-four for the Wilbur C. Whitehead Trophy. It is particularly fitting that this event, which accentuates the social side of bridge in tournament play, should be symbolized by a trophy in memory of Mr. Whitehead, who always placed emphasis upon this phase of bridge. A number of unusually interesting hands were dealt, one of which particularly exemplified the principle I have stated above. The hand was:

North, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ Q 7 6 5 ♡ K 7 ◇ A K 7 ♣ A 6 5 3
♠ 10 4 3 2 ♡ A Q 8 2 ◇ 10 ♣ K 9 7 2	N W E S	♠ A 8 ♡ 10 6 5 3 ◇ 8 6 5 4 3 ♣ J 8
	♠ K J 9 ♡ J 9 4 ◇ Q J 9 2 ♣ Q 10 4

At more than one table, the eventual contract was three no trump, with South the declarer. North generally proferring to open with the slightly shaded club bid in preference to no trump, in order to facilitate the exchange of information. With this declaration, West, it must be confessed, has a rather undesirable choice of leads. The heart suit is in tenace position. To open the spade suit is probably playing the declarer's game, and the club suit has been bid by North, so that opening it will probably facilitate the making of the contract.

Faced with the choice of evils, West chose as his opening lead the heart two, and when South studied the situation, he realized that if the lead were "honest," indicating a four-card suit, the making of the game apparently depended upon securing three tricks in spades or clubs, in addition to the four diamond tricks and one trick in the heart suit, as well as one in the other black suit. Obviously, the spade suit, with only one of the top four honors missing, offers a better prospect of success. An even break makes three tricks certain, and, in addition, drives out an adversely-held ace. However, as there are entries in both hands, nothing is to be lost by taking a round or two of diamonds—not with any particular hope of learning anything valuable, but on the off-chance that, as Mr. Micawber used to say, "something would turn up."

The first trick was won with the heart knave, and South then led a small diamond. The drop of the diamond ten was revealing. One purpose of the diamond lead was to enter the dummy so that a spade might be led from the long hand and thus permit the playing of an honor after one opponent had played, but when the diamond ten fell, South decided that he might as well test out the distribution to see whether or not West was false-carding. If the ten of diamonds was not a false-card, then West probably held originally four cards in each suit except diamonds, as his opening lead had been the heart two. When he discarded a small club on the ace of diamonds, this reading was confirmed. The diamond suit was abandoned and a small spade led from dummy. East played the eight and went up with the King. The knave of spades was now lead and East won. He returned a heart and West cashed three heart tricks. However, the success of the contract was now assured if West held the club king. South knew from the fall of the cards that West still held the spade ten guarded. Hence the spade suit would not break. West cashed his three hearts, but then was faced with an impossible situation for a saving lead. As a matter of fact, he led a club, which South permitted to run to his own hand, knowing that if East held the club king, the contract could not be made in any event, as the spade suit was "stacked" against him.

A study of distribution and hand patterns, plus a little luck in the distribution, greatly facilitated the making of the contract.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the new Esquimalt drydock add 36 feet to the height of high water as above given

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of April 15, 1883)

Surveys Ships—Yesterday, Captains Clarke and Walker, with Captain Herriman, of the barque Ivanhoe, and the diver, T. Harman, surveyed the wrecked barques Tiger and Gettysburg, ashore off Royal Roads. It is expected their reports will be submitted today.

New Firm—Messrs Lemberger & Lewis have opened a new tinware, stove, house furnishing and plumbing establishment on Yates Street, just opposite the Bank of British North America.

Describes Wreck—Captain Mariatt, of the wrecked American schooner, Phoebe Davis, reports that his vessel was struck on Saturday last (the day of the great gale) by a tremendous sea, filling the ship with water and tearing off the rudder. All cooking utensils were lost, and the ship's company subsisted on hard tack until Tuesday, when they were removed by the schooner Mississippi. The Phoebe Davis at that time was twenty miles off the beach, and drifting helplessly. The Mississippi lowered boats and took off the crew, landing them here yesterday.

Fishing Boats—Muirhead & Mann have secured the contract to build several boats for use at the canneries when they reopen this month. The boats will be used as tenders and seine boats.

Visitors to Chicago Fair Will Know Cost of Adventure Railwaymen Say

In order to promote increased travel to the Chicago Cenutry of Progress Exposition, which will open in June and continue throughout the Summer, the railroads of the United States have adopted a new low-rate, all-expense plan (not including meals) for general convenience and to aid all prospective travelers in determining the exact cost of the adventure. The result is that any person may now go to any railroad agent in the United States and purchase a ticket and the essentials that go with it for a stated price. This will include railroad fares and, if the distance is of any magnitude, sleeping car accommodations, hotel accommodations, taxis to and from the hotels, tickets to the exposition, tours around the city and other details.

Representatives of the initial and foreign line railroads in the Pacific Coast territory are enthusiastic over the number of inquiries being received for such inclusive trips. Proportionately, the greater number of inquiries are coming from teachers and instructors, the class, that, generally speaking, has managed to remain on the payrolls more consistently than the other professions. But the teachers have had their salaries reduced to some extent, too, and they have become rather keen bargain seekers.

Chicago plans to handle the visitors going there during the fair in an intelligent and business-like manner. The city will not depend on volunteer workers. An arrangement has been made with the American Express Company, and members of its personnel will be on hand at every railroad station preparded to see that the visitors will receive everything they are entitled to. There will be no opportunity for goldbrick artists to secure any advantages—not the slighiest.

Cutter Ossipee Has Line Aboard Disabled Vessel

BOSTON, April 14 (AP).—The coastguard cutter Ossipee reported today she had got a line aboard the disabled freighter Malang and was taking her in tow for Boston.

The Malang, with thirty-two men aboard, became disabled off Cape Cod, Mass., Wednesday night. The Ossipee reached her Thursday morning, but because of high seas could not immediately get a line aboard.

Port Engine Cause of Disaster to Navy Blimp in Search for Akron Survivors

LAKEHURST, N.J., April 14 (AP).—The non-rigid dirigible J-3 was soon to make a forced landing, because one of her motors was about to drop off when she fell into the sea, and was not wrecked by the weather while returning from a search for Akron survivors, April 4, one of her crew told a naval investigating board today.

Lieutenant John M. Thornton testified that while the J-3 was cruising over the ocean, searching for the Akron wreck, it was discovered the port engine was moving in its outrigger mount because the plate holding it to supporting struts had sheared completely across.

Faced with the danger of losing the motor, the crippled blimp headed to the shore, and had actually started to land, Thornton said, when a gust of wind caught her, and carried her out to sea about 1,000 yards, where she dropped into the water.

St. Lawrence Now Free of Ice and Navigation Opens

MONTREAL, April 14 (CP).—Within two days of the thirty-year record opening, navigation on the St. Lawrence River to Montreal began today with the arrival of four trans-Atlantic steamers and one from the Maritime Provinces. Tomorrow morning port facilities will be in active operation discharging British anthracite coal and general cargo from the vessels.

Small Pacific Fish Attracts Its Prey With Little Light

They have strange fish in the Hawaiian Islands. Details of a weird specimen of the finny tribe, caught near Maia, Island of Maui, has recently been reported.

The fish has four "feet," two on each side, with "toes" webbed like a duck. It looks like a rosy piece of choral, and has its own lighting system, which it uses to attract other smaller fish, in order to swallow them.

The fish bears the scientific name of "antennarius sandvicensis," and its usual habitat is in the great deep of the Pacific. It propels itself by taking in large quantities of water through its mouth, and expelling the water forcibly from openings just under each "elbow."

To attract intended victims, the fish carries a tiny phosphorescent bait at the end of a rigid barbel just in front of its open mouth.

Lunenburg Skipper Recalls Passage to Port Rico for Molasses

By JACK HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

TORONTO, April 14.—"We drifted helplessly for twelve days." In terse, matter-of-fact language, the log of the schooner Narka, out of Arroyo, Porto Rico for Boston with a cargo of molasses, tells of stirring days at sea. Captain Henry Burke, of Lunenburg, N.S., is responsible for the story. He was mate of the Narka, under Captain Newton Sponagle.

It was a February storm. "The wind began breezing up and, at 8 o'clock one evening, we began taking in sail. We shortened sail to two-reefed mainsail and two-reefed foresail. We were running up the south channel. From 10 o'clock that night to 2 o'clock next morning the wind blew a violent gale. At 4 o'clock the gale began to abate somewhat, and the wind began to cant to the east.

"At 6 o'clock the wind was blowing a moderate gale, while at 10 o'clock the wind was northest, and blowing a terrific gale, with thick snow. The vessel was hove to on the port tack, and at 4 o'clock we lowered the two-reefed mainsail and wore the ship around on the starboard tack. At 7 o'clock a tremendous sea swept over the ship, carrying away all the head gear, bowsprit with all rigging attached and, at 11 o'clock another sea boarded the Narka, disabling the captain, and he had to be carried to his cabin.

CARRIED AWAY

"The bowsprit made it very dangerous, as it seemed eventually it would crash a hole in the ship's bow. At 3 o'clock next morning, after seven hours of strenuous work, we managed to get the bowsprit on deck. Our next job was to get up jury head stays to secure the spars, and keep them from going over the ship's side. We experienced a succession of gales from various points, and our next mishap was when we lost the foresail.

"We drifted helplessly for twelve days. We finally tried to get into Sheiburne, N.S., and another southeast gale swept down on us, and we drifted across the Bay of Fundy. The wind eventually moderated and came from the southwest.

"We finally arrived at Yarmouth, where we repaired our wreck and proceeded to Portland, Maine, with our cargo of molasses. We never arrived at Boston."

Thus ends the story of the Narka in the official language. Nothing is said of the dauntless crew who, for seven hours, labored under the heavy sea to "get the bowsprit on deck." The bowsprit, a heavy timber which projects from the very stem of the vessel, pounded furiously after it had been broken away. Nothing is said, either, of the means used to take in sail.

It is the way of the sea.

BETTER PRICES ARE LOOKED FOR

West Coast Fishermen Expect Some Competition From Buyers of Sockeye Salmon This Season

TOFINO, April 10 (By mail).—Salmon seine fishermen on the West Coast of Vancouver Island are looking forward to a good sockeye season this year. All indications point to good prices and consequent keen competition among the cannery men for this high grade fish.

The season for the West Coast opens the end of the month, and already Nootka cannery is making preparations for canning sockeye, which the cannery has not handled for many years past.

No large runs of sockeye occur in the Nootka area that would justify seine boats operating there, but many small runs occur at several points between Nootka and Kyuquot, and it is expected a number of gill-netters will be out after these fish when the season opens.

The British Columbia Packers' Cannery, at Kildonan, will be operating, as also will the Empire Cannery, at Port Alberni, both competing for the runs at Nitinat and Barkley Sound. Whether the Tofino Cannery, at Kennfalls, will operate or not is still in doubt, there being no sign of any activity so far at this plant; and, as it operated only on a very limited scale last year, and never operated at all the year previous, the fishermen are not placing much hope in its operating.

As practically all canneries in Vancouver and on the West Coast compete keenly for the Tofino sockeye, which is one of the highest grades of sockeye in the province, the fishermen are expecting several independent buyers to be on the grounds bidding for their catch.

Hinkler's Cousin Took Off on Long Airplane Flight

PORT DARWIN, Australia, April 15 (CP).—Mrs. Harry Bonney, a cousin of the long-lost Australian distance flyer, Bert Hinkler, started this morning on a flight to England.

Mrs. Bonney, a light airplane enthusiast, did not say whether she had any designs on the records for the journey, as she took off at 6:50 o'clock this morning, from this northern tip of the continent.

Hinkler, one of the world's foremost long-distance flyers, was lost some months ago, after starting from England in an attempt to break the record for the flight to Australia.

Flyer at Calcutta

CALCUTTA, April 14 (AP). — L. Robiano, Italian pilot flying from Lympne to Australia, arrived here this afternoon, after a non-stop flight from Karachi through a heavy rain.

LIGHT PLANE FORCED DOWN

Youthful Australian Girl Reached Karachi by Camel and Motor

KARACHI, India, April 14 (CP).—A camel and a motor truck today were unscheduled facilities adopted by Jean Batten, youthful Australian girl, on her flight from England to Australia.

After her light airplane was forced down near hear last night, Miss Batten started for Karachi on the only transportation available—the ship of the desert. She jogged along on the unwieldy animal for twenty-seven miles before she was hailed by the driver of a motor truck, who brought her the rest of the distance to this city.

Undaunted, the Australian girl, who abandoned her music studies in London for the pursuit of flying, announced she will return to the scene of her mishap with a new propeller and continue her flight.

She explained while on her flight from Jask, her last stopping place, she ran into a sand storm in the moonlight, and had to fly blind for some time. She finally landed in a field near the village of Baluchi, and as the machine grounded the nose tipped in the mud, burying the engine and splitting the propeller.

SAILING SOUTHBOUND

For California ports, the Pacific Coast Steamship Lines Ss. Emma Alexander will sail from Rithet Piers at midnight tonight. The liner is due here from Seattle at 10 o'clock to embark Island and Mainland travelers, proceeding to San Francisco and Wilmington.

NOTES ON AVIATION

Those who have never flown often wonder at the enthusiasm of the confirmed air traveler. In the words of E. J. Davis, of Pemberton & Son's Victoria office, "I look forward to every air journey I make, because every flight brings some new impression." Mr. Davis has flown with Gordon K. MacKenzie on Wells Air Transport's Vancouver-Victoria division perhaps as much as any air passenger.

Those who have flown on air lines everywhere on the American continent state that the Gulf crossing is one of the most beautiful short air journeys to be found. Pilot MacKenzie, who has made nearly 2,000 round trips on the division, still enjoys flying this run. Variations of the route followed, altitude at which the flight is made, and atmospheric conditions present new visual enjoyment on practically every flight.

Vancouver may have a civic seaplane landing base located in Burrard Inlet, should plans discussed at a meeting of the airport committee materialize. This would give commercial operators of water aircraft the option of landing at either Sea Island or in the heart of the city.

Possibility of the Vancouver Harbor Commissioners granting permission to use the old Hastings Mill site, will be looked into by Chairman Alderman W. J. Twiss and Airport Manager William Templeton, who were appointed to review all details of the suggested plan.

Major Ernst Udet, Germany's noted stunt flyer, will participate in hair-raising flying exhibitions in Los Angeles, at the National Air Races, July 1, 2, 3 and 4. Flight-Lieut. Richard Atcherley, England's outstanding flyer, is expected to be among other famous aces present to give demonstrations of their skill during the famous event. The Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning an aviation parade through the downtown section on July 1, with a large number of other clubs and organizations represented by floats.

Widespread interest in Bridge River and other Cariboo gold-producing areas is evidenced by the number of inquiries being received by Wells Air Transport's Vancouver office. Mining men are expected to keep aircraft busily engaged in the Cariboo this season, the Vancouver-Bridge River twice-weekly air service promising heavy travel. Many inquiries originate from the States, as American minnig interests are connected with well-known properties in British Columbia.

Aviation Week, to be staged May 22 to May 28, at Vancouver, presents the opportunity of arranging attractions for the public on two days at the airport. City championships for model builders will be held on May 24, with an air show programme on May 28, featured by balloon-bursting competition for the Wakefield Trophy. Saturday afternoon has been set aside as Visitors' Day, when groups of ten or more may make arrangements for a conducted tour of the airport with a member of the Air Pilots' Association to supply accurate information. The purpose of Aviation Week is to make the public better informed on the importance of the aviation industry in British Columbia, to stimulate interest in aviation, and to make Vancouver citizens more familiar with their own airport facilities at Sea Island.

There is an important organization in aviation, originating in this province, and quite likely to grow to be national in scope. That is the Air Pilots, Engineers and Navigators' Association, representing today probably 80 or 90 per cent of the flying men of British Columbia. Their purposes are laudable to a high degree, working to a greater efficiency and effectiveness of regulations controlling the operation of aircraft.

Sometimes we get to thinking that maybe things would be bettter now if the dove of peace had forgotten his bill.

Gives Address on Early History

DUNCAN, April 14.—C. C. Pemberton, of Victoria, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Cowichan Historical Society, held at the Agricultural Hall last night. The speaker had a wealth of material, papers, maps and a mass of interesting information on the early history of Vancouver Island and early exploration of coast waters, which was thoroughly appreciated by the fifty people who attended the meeting.

W. M. Dwyer, president of the Historical Society, voiced the thanks of the audience to Mr. Pemberton for a most enjoyable and instructive evening.

Irish Association Meets at Duncan

DUNCAN, April 14.—The Cowichan Irish Association held its annual meeting at the Agricultural Hall last night. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. A. Scholes; vice-president, W. M. Dwyer; secretary-treasurer, H. L. Helen; committee, Admiral Nugent, P. J. Flynn, H. A. M. Denny, H. Pinson, and Mesdames A. X. Rey, A. E. Gorton, O. C. Brown and F. G. Christmas. Members of the sick visiting committee appointed were F. B. Carberry, W. M. Dwyer, Mrs. H. Helen, Mrs. A. X. Rey and Mrs. John Garmus.

The financial statement presented showed the society to be in a flourishing condition. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to the society of a very handsome gavel, the gift of Mrs. A. E. Gorton.

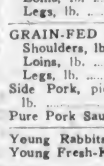
SLEEPLESS, WOMAN'S WEAKNESS



Galt, Ont.—"I had a nervous breakdown two years ago, the least little noise completely unstrung me. I could hardly rest at night and finally I became so weak I could not get about the house," said Mrs. Jas. Johnson of 19 Bruce St. "I had no appetite at all and suffered from feminine weakness. Finally I started using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and began to feel better after I had taken less than a bottle, and after taking a few bottles of it I felt like a new person." CHOIR RENDERS 'DARKEST HOUR'

Play of Emotions Well Presented by Metropolitan Church Choral Group

There are few cantatas that deal with the whole gamut of human emotions such as Harold Moore's famous opus, "The Darkest Hour," which was rendered in a masterly manner last night by the Metropolitan United Church Choir of fifty voices, under the capable leadership of Frank Tupman.

In this composition there are two scenes that are distinctly interpretative of two extremes of emotions. First is the scene in Gethsemane, and the second the trials before Caiaphas and Pilate.

In the first, one finds agony of soul and mind, followed by consternation of the despairing kind, which, in turn, is quickly changed to bitter grief.

The second offers a display of mob emotion, hysteria, the complexity of a man's mind, torn between two courses of action, and lastly the clamorous demand of a sadistic, uncontrollable crowd.

THE TRIAL SCENE

Between the portrayal of these two scenes, as given by the Metropolitan choir, one can hardly guage which interpretation was best rendered. In the trial scene the full choir was alert to the attacks, and not lacking in either expressiveness or the tumultuous quality that was desired. Fraser Lester gave a dramatic interpretation of Pontius Pilate's indecisiveness of action, and the final gesture of leaving the fate of Christ to the mob.

In the Gethsemane scene, however, the emotions were a little more difficult to portray. They were more of the abstract kind, but the choir unquestionably sang into these passages the blank amazement of the disciples when Christ was betrayed, and caught admirably the note of grief that followed realization of what had happened. The singing of that beautiful hymn, which ends the scene, "In the Lord's Atoning Grief," the audience unquestionably felt the depths of grief to which the supporters of Christ must been moved on such an occasion.

THE NARRATOR

Mrs. Thelma Johns, as narrator, achieved a complete disassociation from the scenes that were being enacted. One felt that she was a spectator giving a recital of what was happening. Dr. Harry Johns, who sang Christ's words, was given some difficult passages, in which restraint and, in some cases, mysticism were the supreme requirements. He showed a mastery over both that made his singing all the more enjoyable.

Prior to the cantata, Edward Parsons, organist, played Elgar's "Prelude and Angels' Farewell" from the Dream of Gerontius," and Madame Scott-Burritt sang "There Is a Green Hill."

DEATH CLAIMS HENRY J. ABBOTT

Resident of Victoria for Past Sixteen Years Dies in Hospital —Funeral on Tuesday

There passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last night, Henry J. Abbott, of 1065 Verrinder Avenue, who, for the past sixteen years has been a resident of Victoria. Born in Iroquois, Ont., sixty-five years ago, Mr. Abbott came to Victoria in 1917.

He was a member of the local council of United Commercial Travellers, and was well known in the city. He is survived by his widow, at the family residence.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Bach Motet Is Subject Of Recital

The beauty of the unaccompanied madrigal was heard to great advantage at Christ Church Cathedral last evening when the Victoria Madrigal Society gave its annual recital with a large choir of madrigalists admirably prepared by Stanley Bulley.

The major work was the intensely devotional Bach motet, "Jesu, Joy and Treasure," a capable work in ten parts, based on five sacred texts. Despite the obvious technical difficulties of the composition, it was sung with a freedom and unanimity of spirit that testified to careful preparation, and, as in the case of subsequent numbers, the diction was noticeably good, the polyphony highly pleasing, and the devotional character of the work was carefully maintained.

WELL SHAPED TONE

Three lesser, but nevertheless very beautiful motets, "Never Weather-Beaten Sail" and "There Is an Old Belief," by Hubert H. Parry; and Armstrong Gibbs' "Old Age," composed the choir's part of the second half of the recital, these all, like the Bach work, being unaccompanied, and showing finely-controlled and well-shaped tone in the various sections of the madrigalists. The three final motets were linked to particularly beautiful words, Parry's being to verses written by Thomas Campion and John Gibson Lockhart respectively, and the melodious Gibbs' motet to a poem by Edmund Waller.

ORGAN NUMBERS

Stanley Bulley, who displayed much skill in conducting his choir, also gave a programme of organ numbers. Before the Bach motet he played two choral preludes, Parry's 'St. Cross" and Charles Wood's "St. Mary," both based on tunes of the Passion-tide; at the close of the Bach work he added Bairstow's Toccata prelude on the plain song, "Pange Lingua," and the Cesar Franck "Prelude, Fugue, and Variations," passing through three distinct moods, the quiet, majestic, and wistful; and at the very end of the recital he played the quiet, majestic and the triumphant "Tuba Tune" of Cooker, admirably contrasted works, the latter making interesting use of the pedals.

CHOIRS OFFER INSPIRED WORK

"Olivet to Calvary" Is Admirably Presented by City Churches

"Olivet to Calvary," one of the most beautiful of the sacred cantatas, arranged by Shapcott Wensley, with music by J. H. Maunder, and a musical work that recalls some of the incidents in the last days of the Saviour's life on earth, was admirably rendered, and with perfect sympathy and understanding, by the choir and soloists at St. John's Anglican Church last evening.

It is not necessary here to describe the many inspiring passages in this well-known work, nor would it be possible to narrate the story as it is unfolded from the opening chorus, "When O'er the Steep of Olivet," on the way to Jerusalem; to the concluding hymn, "Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me." Each part, interspersed with solos and recitatives, forms the great betrayal: 'Take Ye Him and Crucify Him," in the voice of Pilate.

IMPRESSIVE WORK

Under the able direction of G. Jennings Burnett, organist and choirmaster of St. John's, the choir presented the musical setting in a very creditable manner. It is a difficult work, but both choir and soloists gave a splendid interpretation of the various passages that make up the impressive composition. The choir gave ample manifestation of its talent in the unaccompanied rendering of "O Thou, Whose Sweet Compassion."

The chorus, "The Saviour King Goes Forth to Die," with organ prelude, was admirably done, the echo of the organ notes carried out over the congregation from the hidden recesses over the church vestibule, giving a harmonious effect to the number depicting the march to Calvary.

The score is separated into distinctive parts commencing with the journey to Jerusalem, and following with "Before Jerusalem," "In the Temple," "The Mount of Olives," "The New Commandment," so much stressed in these times; "A New Commandment Give I Unto You, That Ye Love One Another," "At Gethsemane," "Betrayed and Forsaken," "Before Pilate," "The March to Calvary" and concluding with "Calvary," the theme chorus being "Droop, Sacred Head."

SOLOS WELL PRESENTED

The soprano soloist was Mrs. F. Noel, who interpreted "Like a Fair Vision in the Morning Light" and "Not of This World the Kingdom of Our Lord"; Miss C. Jeeves sang very sweetly "He Was Despised and Rejected of Men," and Miss D. Moore was the soloist for the concluding number, "Droop Sacred Head." Other soloists who took part in the offering were: W. H. Jacques, baritone, in "O Jerusalem" and "O Was There Ever Loneliness Like His"; J. P. French, baritone, "Another Temple Waits Thee, Lord Divine"; L. Batchelor, baritone, in the recitative passage, "Come Unto Him"; Major Cunningham, baritone, recitative, "And When They Had Sung a Hymn," and Mr. Jackman, in the scene, "Before Pilate."

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, rector of St. John's, conducted the devotional part of the service.

AT ST. MARY'S

F. T. C. Wickett conducted St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Choir last evening, when the sacred cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," was beautifully rendered. The church was filled and the congregation joined in singing the hymns, "Just as I Am, Without One Plea" and "Rock of Ages." Rev. R. Yerburgh took the short services which preceded the cantata.

Dudley Wickett, baritone; G. H. Llewelyn, tenor; F. A. Sparks and H. C. Corbett were the soloists, and among the specially outstanding solos were "Jerusalem," sung by Dudley Wickett; "Come Unto Him," by Mr. Corbett; "And Jesus, Knowing That His Hour Was Come," by Mr. Sparks; and "Not of This World," by Mr. Llewelyn. Miss Doris Rawlins sang "Droop, Sacred Head" with great feeling and expressive restraint.

Coast Brigade have been set as follows: June 16 to 28, 55th and 56th Heavy Batteries, with battle practice on June 24 in conjunction with the R.C.A., Macauley and Belmont batteries being manned. As in former years, the camp will be held at Fort Macauley.

Booth or Mrs. Campbell, who are conveners for the day. Headquarters for the tagging are the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street.

Increased Shipments—Shipments of forced rhubarb from British Columbia points to Eastern Canada have increased slightly to date this year, according to officials of the Department of Agriculture. Nineteen cars rolled East to date, compared to fifteen from the same point a year ago. Special rates put into effect by the railways have encouraged the movement.

Easter Concert—A special Easter programme has been arranged by Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion for their smoking concert tonight, at the clubrooms on View Street. A fine cast of local talent will give musical and vocal selections, and a guessing competition will be conducted among the members and guests. James Primrose will be in charge.

M.D. No. 11, and his staff officers.

Is Visiting Here—Chris McRae, of Vancouver, former member of the British Columbia Legislature for that city, is at the Empress Hotel for a few days, accompanied by his two daughters. Mr. McRae, who is interested in the lumber business, is very hopeful that better arrangements may be entered into between Canada and the United States, which will have a beneficial effect upon the lumber trade.

To Hold Smoker—Members of organizations affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council will be guests at a smoking concert to be held this evening at eight o'clock in the Labor Hall, under the auspices of the council. An excellent programme of musical and vocal selections has been arranged, with many of the city's leading artists taking part. Several valuable prizes will be given away during the evening.

Farmers Exempt — Redrafting regulations under the Game Act respecting the tagging of deer taken in the hunting season, the Government has approved amended regulations. Deer killed in the hunting season must be tagged separately until they arrive at their destination. Tags, selling at twenty-five cents each, can be renewed without charge if left over from the previous season, but only official tags may be used. The regulations do not apply to Indians, prospectors or surveyors who secure deer for food, or to farmers within the confines of their own property.

Normal School Plays—On April 28, at 8:15 p.m., the Normal School Dramatic Society will present its annual performance. As in former years, the programme will consist of one-act plays. The school orchestra, under the direction of F. T. C. Wickett, will be in attendance. The first play will be "The Oak Settle," a delightful comedy written by the well-known English dramatist, Harold Brighouse. Following this will be Fergusson's stirring drama, "Campbell of Kilmohr," and the performance will be completed by the Japanese fantasy, "A Flower of Yeddo," by Victor Mapes. Throughout the year the society has produced many small plays and sketches in an endeavor to have as many students as possible take part. Much talent of high order has been discovered, and the rehearsals to date give promise of an entertainment equal to the best offered in former years.

On Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p.m., in the parish hall, Mr. Jack Alywin, of the local council, will give a lecture, with the aid of moving pictures, the proceeds going to the restoration fund. Members were reminded of the A.Y.P.A. dance, to be held on Friday, April 21.

'Granny' Watson Nearing Ninety-First Birthday

Ladysmith Resident Recalls Early Days on Vancouver Island—Came From Scotland Forty-Eight Years Ago

LADYSMITH, April 14. — Mrs. Marion Watson, of this city, will enter her ninety-second year on April 17, and "Granny," as she is familiarly termed, is looking forward with renewed hope for better times.

Mrs. Watson is domiciled at Ladysmith General Hospital. This arrangement is more a matter of convenience than necessity, for she is by no means an invalid. Indeed, when one sees the sparkle in her eyes, the bloom in her cheeks and the mass of silvery hair so neatly arranged, one may be excused for guessing seventy-one instead of ninety-one.

But in a few minutes' conversation with "Granny," with her store of recollections rendered in her quaint Scots dialect, and she can give the highlights of her uneventful history without an instant's pondering. She was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and arrived in Canada with her husband forty-eight years ago.

GRANNY WATSON

Robert Watson was a coal miner, and the story of the prosperity of Vancouver Island coalfields lured him to Wellington. The trans-Canada railway was in its infant years, and Vancouver and Victoria were still but budding cities.

PROSPEROUS DAYS

These were the real days of prosperity, according to Mrs. Watson. Everybody knew everybody, and there was a real spirit of neighborliness among these pioneers.

"Why, you couldna hear yourself speaking for the sound o' hammers and saws. Everybody was building and everybody was cheery. We didna have time to think about depressions or any nonsense of that sort in the auld days."

At ninety-one, her senses are practically unimpaired. She is an avid newspaper reader, and keeps abreast of current events, without in the least changing her faith that things were much better fifty years ago, and will probably improve fifty years hence.

Every year a host of congratulations pour into the hospital when "Granny's" birthday arrives, and she takes a keen pleasure in this, the greatest event of her year.

She has a son and grandson residing in Vancouver, Mr. John Watson and his son.

A jealous person is always in love, but it's usually self-love.

POOR BRIDE!

The newly married couple were having turkey for the first time. "I don't know how it is," remarked the husband, "but this bird's got bones all over it. Just listen to the knife on them."

"Oh, how silly of you, darling! Those aren't bones. Those are the shells."

"Shells?"

"Yes. Don't you remember you said you liked turkey with oyster stuffing?"

MARBERRY "CONTORTIONIST"

Despite his great size, the 200-lb. Firpo Marberry, Detroit pitcher, is one of the most supple of major league players. He can stand on one foot and put the other foot over his head. He can also stoop and flatten his palms on the ground without bending his knees.

Schooner is believed to be derived from "scoon," an old Scotch and dialectical word meaning to skip or skim over the surface of the water.

MURDER IN EDEN
by Charles Winfield Smith

CHAPTER XVI

As soon as he had received the coroner's report Jere Kane returned to the scene of the murder. A genial-faced Irishman who introduced himself as Detective O'Hara, admitted him. After a few brief preliminaries, Kane asked that Chivington be brought down.

Presently, the old man pottered into the room. His face lighted when he saw the amateur detective.

"I'm glad you've come," he said fervently.

"What sort of mess was that you got into last night?" Kane asked good naturedly. "That isn't like you, Chivington."

The old man looked inquiringly at the detective. Kane nodded and asked O'Hara to leave them alone. When he was gone:

"I feel I can talk to you, sir. But those officers . . ." He shuddered.

Kane motioned him into a chair but he himself remained standing. Shortly:

"Now, tell me, Chivington, about that gun. What were you going to do with it?"

Kane's voice was smooth and easy. The servant's gaze shifted uneasily. Then:

"I knew they wouldn't believe me, so I told them it was the master's gun. It wasn't, Mr. Kane. I—I found it." He looked appealingly at the other man. "I swear I did."

"Where?"

"In the driveway near the street. It was lying in the gutter. I stumbled over it, as I was coming back to the house."

"What did you do with it?"

"The sergeant took it when it fell from under my coat."

Kane called O'Hara. When the detective shuffled in he seemed to divine what was wanted, for he had the gun in his hand. He muttered something about James having turned it over to him to be given to Kane but that it slipped his mind.

Taking the gun, Kane dismissed him. He turned to Chivington. "Is this the weapon?"

The old man nodded. It was a 25-caliber revolver. Hasty examination showed that it had been fired but once. The serial number had been filed off.

Carefully wrapping it up in his handkerchief, Kane stuck the gun in his pocket. He did not for a moment think that he would be able to find any fingerprints on it, at least, none that would aid him in his investigation. Too many had handled it — Chivington, James, O'Hara and himself.

But he wanted to study the muzzle of that gun under a microscope. If it was the gun that killed Richard Bailey a powerful glass would reveal it.

"Chivington," his voice was not unkind, "how long have you been in Mr. Bailey's service?"

The old man's eyes seemed to light with pride. "Twenty years, sir," he replied. "I came from England with him. I was his valet, sir, when he was a star on the London stage."

"And you have been with him ever since?"

"Yes, sir. I have seen him every day since. Why, sir, he was just like a son to me. He was an artist, and you yourself know how irresponsible such persons are. He needed me."

He was about to ask about the director's numerous love affairs but decided to spare the old man that embarrassment. Instead:

"At what time did you return home last night?"

"It was about a quarter past nine."

"What did you do when you first arrived?"

"I went to my room and deposited my hat and coat. I brushed up a bit—one can get so disheveled at the beach, you know, sir—and then I went to the den to see if the master wanted anything. I found him—" a sob shook his bent and aging body "—lying on the floor, as you saw him."

"Did you see anyone at or near the house when you came in?"

"No, sir."

"Now, about your midnight walk—you couldn't sleep . . ."

"Of course not, sir, under the circumstances," Chivington interposed. "How could I?"

"I understand," with constraint. "Now, tell me, just what happened."

"I was lying on my bed—I didn't bother about undressing, I was too distraught—when I thought I heard someone outside. As quietly as I could I raised my window and looked out but I could see no one.

"I decided to come down and investigate. The officer was asleep and I decided I would not disturb him. You see, I thought I might just be jumpy and I didn't want him to make sport of me. So I slipped outside. As I stepped out on to the front step a dark figure darted away from the house . . ."

Kane grew impatient. The old man was talking so slowly, so deliberately. "Yes, yes," he snapped, "go on."

"I thought of calling the officer, but I feared the prowler would get away. So I gave chase, but he easily outdistanced me. He ran out of the yard and turned down the street toward Highland Avenue. Once he stumbled and fell down, but he scrambled to his feet and raced off."

"Can you describe him?"

"Only slightly, sir. He seemed to be a young man and he wore an old suit of clothes. He had a cap pulled far down over his eyes——"

"Yes, and then what did you do?" Kane cut in.

"I decided to return to the house and awaken the officer. But as I turned into the driveway my foot struck against something — it sounded like metal as I stepped on it—and I nearly fell down. I looked to see what it was and I found that gun.

"I picked it up and looked at it as best I could in the dark. I didn't know what to do, sir. I didn't know whether to give it to the officer and tell him that I found it or wait and give it to you—I knew you would understand, sir—and tell you the whole story.

"I decided on the latter course. I stuck it under my coat—well," with a shrug, "you know the rest."

"Chivington," his voice was coaxing rather than threatening, "did you know of any enemies that your master might have had?"

"He had no enemies that I know of," fervently. "He was a man loved by all who knew him and he would go out of his way to assist those in need."

Thoughtfully, staring at the floor, Kane rubber his chin. His other hand crept into his coat pocket; his fingers touched the forgotten diary.

That was it; why had he forgotten the diary? He fingered it for a moment, the while his eyes studied the face of the old man. Was Chivington telling the truth?

What an absurd thought. Of course he was. Chivington was as honest as any human could be. He was devoted to Richard Bailey. What purpose would he have in seeking to hide the identity of his master's slayer?

But one more test. Kane knew the answer—the true answer. He had found it as he glanced through the diary this morning.

"Chivington," he said slowly and with emphasis, "What was Mr. Bailey's financial condition?"

The old houseman's face clouded. Then: "We always had the best of everything," he said, almost boastfully, but then, as he went on, his voice dropped to one tinged with embarrassment, "but of late months the struggle has been a hard one. He was in debt—and needed money badly."

Chivington buried his face in his hands and his old body shook. He was a proud man and it hurt him to have to disclose that secret. He had tried so hard to aid his master in keeping up appearances, for in the Eden that is Hollywood the one demand is:

"Keep up appearances at all costs."

Kane looked down on him with compassion in his eyes. But he was jubilant that his first impression of him was correct. It added to his own confidence, inspired him with new vigor to get to the bottom of this affair.

There was one more question he wanted to ask. He had formed his own opinion, but he wanted Chivington's. The prowler that he had seen resembled in description the one who had fled from Nanette Le-Roi's cottage earlier in the evening.

Here, he thought, was the link between the two attacks, one of which proved fatal, the other of which showed either haste or bad marksmanship. If he could get confirmation of his theory—

"Chivington," he said, and he spoke slowly for emphasis, "do you think that prowler was a woman?"

Little Bedtime Stories

Robber Causes Excitement

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Farmer Brown's Boy, who is nothing if not obedient, promptly set three traps for Robber the Rat, and all the time he was doing it he had a feeling that if Robber knew what he was doing Robber would laugh at him. You see Farmer Brown's Boy knew that Robber had come from the barn, and this being true, those traps were quite useless. He had set them so many times in the barn that Robber knew all about them and there wasn't the least chance that he would be foolish enough to be tempted into one of them. The same thing was true of Mrs. Robber. Farmer Brown's Boy set those traps because his mother had told him to, and he knew that she would feel easier in her mind.

When night came Farmer Brown's Boy set a trap in the kitchen right in front of the hole Robber had made. It was set so that Robber couldn't possibly come through that hole without getting into the trap.

"I may not catch him, but I guess this will keep him out of the kitchen," said Farmer Brown's Boy.

It did. Just as soon as all was still in the house that night Robber led the way to the kitchen door, planning for more high old times such as they had had the night before. Now you might suppose that he would have darted through that hole without a bit of hesitation, but he did nothing of the kind. He was too wise. One of the things he had been taught when very young and which afterward he had learned by experience is that the time to watch out and be most careful is when there seems to be the least danger. So now instead of scampering in through the hole heedlessly, Robber stopped and poked only his sharp nose through. So he discovered the trap and warned Mrs. Robber. Of course this meant no high times in the kitchen that night. But they had plenty to eat from the night before, food which they had taken to their home among the boxes in the dark, dusty corner of the woodshed, so they really didn't mind.

Not having a chance to romp as they did the night before, and there not being much to do in the woodshed, they went to bed early. The result was that the next morning they were not sleepy. Robber kept still as long as he could, but finally he just had to go out and see what was going on. It was very quiet in the woodshed, but he could hear someone moving about in the kitchen and the most delicious odors came through the hole he had made. Robber stood there and sniffed and sniffed until he could stand it no longer. He poked his nose through. There was no trap now. He put his whole head through and presently his body followed. That kitchen was warm and filled with delightful odors. Mrs. Brown was busy at a table. Without knowing just why, Robber felt that she wasn't to be feared.

It was then that he discovered Black Pussy

Robber's shrewd little eyes twinkled as he looked this way and that way. He saw Black Pussy's saucer of milk. "A drink of milk is just what I need," thought he, and started toward the saucer. It was then that he discovered Black Pussy and that Black Pussy discovered him. She had been curled up under the stove. Robber paused in the middle of the floor and Black Pussy crept from under the stove. She glared at Robber and he glared back, showing all his teeth. Black Pussy had felt those teeth once, so now she made no move to catch Robber. Instead she arched her back, swelled her tail and spit as only a cat can.

At the sound, Mrs. Brown turned and saw Robber. In her hands was a pie just ready for the oven. It was a squash pie. At sight of Robber in the middle of her kitchen she dropped the pie on the floor, shrieked, and jumped up on a chair, where she seized her skirts in both hands and continued to shriek. Mrs. Brown feared few things, but she was afraid of Rats.

The dropping of the pie and the shriek so startled Black Pussy that she jumped right up on the table, and her back arched more than ever and her tail three times as big as usual she stood growling and spitting like a black fury. As for Robber the Rat he decided that he had had excitement enough for one morning, and hurried to tell Mrs. Robber all about it and laugh at the foolish fear the mere sight of him had aroused.

Next story: Robber drives himself back to the barn.

*Leading pen.

A friend of mine lately went back to an old camping ground after an absence of several years and inquired for the Jones family. An Indian told him: "Old man Jones, he dead."

My friend was greatly disturbed at this news, but when he got to his camp, "Old Injun Jones" came out to get his bags. And he wanted an explanation.

"What did you mean by telling me old man Jones was dead?" he demanded of the Indian.

"Yes, he dead."

"Why, he was here just this minute and carried my bags for me."

"Well, he dead, but he ain't fall over yet."

CALLING IT A "SPENCER"

We have an inquiry for "the origin or whatever you can tell me of the beginnings of the coat called the "Spencer."

Ah, the Spencer is not the "fly-by-night" fashion of a day decreed and abolished overnight by Parisian fashion dictators. No. He who wears a "Spencer" can claim a time-honored fashion. For this short jacket, which is worn by men and women, takes its origin and its name from the third Earl Spencer, who first wore it, or under whose auspices it became the fashion.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m., from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., and from 11:15 p.m. to 11:50 p.m. The danger periods are from 10:45 a.m. to 11:50 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

News of an important or interesting sort may come from a great distance on this April 15, possibly from a foreign land. If you are anxious concerning the outcome of a business deal, it would seem that influences are operating in a right way towards its solution.

The child born on this April 15 will form habits early in life that will be difficult to overcome later on. This child must be taught obedience and must be made to do and speak rightly. He will be much of an imitator, but will not have sufficient discretion in the choice of his models.

If April 15 is the date of your birth, you are careful in all of your thoughts and deeds to give "the other fellow" all that is coming to him. You seem to feel that if you step on no one's toes, it matters not how you handle your own interests. You are not one to complain, for no doubt it is your philosophy of life that you are pretty much responsible for the disasters as well as the successes that come your way. You do not condemn others regardless of what may be their misdeeds. You are much more inclined to look for extenuating circumstances and to give another chance if it is in your power to do so.

Born on April 15, you are not a particularly hard worker, but you know how to conserve your energies, how to direct them along right paths and how to make your work count. You save both time and money in all matters. When you do business affairs, you lay your plans well, you know the personnel of those on your side as well as that of the opposition, and you follow up every advantage to the fullest extent. You are possessed of a will to win. Both sexes are sometimes inclined to let sentiment stand in the way of their best interests. In affairs of the heart they are putty in the hands of others.

Westminster Royals Win From Victoria In Intercity Match

Visiting Football Squad Chalks Up 5-to-2 Decision in Coast League Fixture Before Largest Crowd of Season—Watt and Price Score

LEAGUE STANDING

	P.	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	P.
Westminster	7	5	0	2	21	12	12
St. Andrews	6	3	1	2	10	10	8
Nanaimo City	6	2	2	2	10	9	6
St. Saviours	6	2	3	1	13	13	5
Victoria	11	2	8	1	19	29	5

Resorting to the short-passing game and using it to great advantage throughout both halves, especially in the opening session, New Westminster Royals widened their lead in the intercity series in the Pacific Coast Football League, yesterday afternoon, at the Royal Athletic Park, by defeating Victoria, 5 to 2. The largest crowd of the season journeyed to the enclosure for the match. Close to 1,500 paid their way into the park, only to see the locals suffer their worst defeat since the curtain went up.

Showing a great reversal of form, the Victoria team were sadly off color. Last week the same line-up took St. Andrews into camp, 4-1, but yesterday, although they fought hard in the late stages, they were never close to winning. Victoria's front rank failed to function, and they passed up numerous opportunities in the last half. Both wing men were weak, while Price, at centre forward, was not up to his usual form. The halves and backs worked hard, while De Costa turned in a good game between the posts. On the other hand, the Royals clicked together well, and not a weak link was noticed in their machine.

ROYALS PRESS

Kicking with a strong wind behind their backs, the visitors pressed hard during the opening half, and had a decided edge. Turner made a fine opening for Findler right after the whistle, but De Costa made a brilliant save. Hammond was going all on his own a few minutes later, but was checked up for fouling Tommy Smith near the goal, and play was stopped. Bob Stewart had Victoria's first chance, but skied yards over the framework, with nobody near him.

Morgan got away on a fast run after eluding Anderson, and swerved in towards the goal, only to have Sanford save a terrific drive. McKibbin got the rebound, and cleared before any damage was done. Dave Turner nearly opened the score, but had hard luck when his terrific drive hit the bar and glanced over. The drive had De Costa beat from the start. Hammond headed over on the next attack, and Rimmer banged a long drive over the bar. Delaney sent in a fine flag kick, which De Costa just managed to tip over the crossbar. The Royals kept pressing hard, and had the locals' defence working overtime.

VISITORS IN LEAD

Twenty-seven minutes had ticked away when the Royals broke into the score column, Trotter heading through after a fine combination attack, in which Strang and Findler figure, Joe Watt caught Trotter's header and cleared, but the ball had crossed the line and Referee Swan gave a goal, which it was, without any doubt. Eight minutes later, Victoria were given a penalty when Stoddart charged Price heavily in the restricted area. John Watt registered from the spot with a bullet drive. About a minute before the rest period, Sandy Strang put the Royals out in front when he took a long pass from the left wing, and went right in on top of De Costa to score.

With the wind behind them, Victoria opened the second half on the attack. West started on right wing for the Royals, and Strang moved into the centre position, replacing Hammond. Stobbart took Stoddart's place at centre half. The locals remained intact. Three times in succession Price narrowly missed scoring, his last effort being a high lob which just fell in behind the bar. Bob Stewart had a great chance, but took too long, and McKibbin, who turned in a fine game, rushed over and blocked his opportunity. Sanford was guarding his net well and cleared two fine headers from Price. Joe Crowe kept engineering several Victoria attacks, but the work in front of the net was weak.

Findler made it 3-1 after ten minutes, when he caught a long pass in mid-air and smashed a hard shot to the corner. De Costa never had a chance to save, as everything happened so quickly. Shortly after, Findler hit the bar, and Trotter caught the rebound and put the Royals farther out in front. Mike Wagland was instrumental in giving Victoria their second and last tally when he tricked through and made a fine opening for Price. The latter had to act quickly, and just beat Sanford as he rushed out of his goal, the ball lazily rolling into the net before anybody could reach it.

LOCALS ATTACK HARD

Anderson cleared another dangerous Victoria rush less than a minute later, by forcing a corner. Stewart drove into the goalmouth, but another flag kick resulted. Two more corners and play went back to Victoria's half in a rush, and Sandy Strang added the Royals' fifth marker with a beautiful drive to the far corner of the net, after taking a fine cross from West. It was the best goal of the game. Victoria fought hard during the remaining minutes, Wagland and Stewart both having hard luck with shots, both of which hit the bar. Sanford turned aside all the locals' efforts during the last few minutes.

Dave Swan refereed. John McKinnon and Robb acted as linesmen, and teams follow:

Victoria — De Costa, Joe Watt, Gibbons, Williams, Crowe, Smith, R. Stewart, John Watt, Price, Wagland, Morgan, A. Stewart, I. Sweeney, Viggers and Chalmers.

New Westminster — Sanford, Anderson, McKibbin, Rimmer, Stoddart, Delaney, Strang, Trotter, Hammond, Turner, Findler, Stobbart and West.

RANGERS AND JOKERS PLAY TO 2-2 DRAW

Tolmie Cup Soccer Fixture Ends in Tie—Big Crowd Watches Fixture

Outer Wharf Rangers and Jokers battled their way to a 2-2 draw in a Tolmie Cup soccer fixture played yesterday, before a huge crowd at the Lower Beacon Hill grounds. Play was fair throughout, with the Rangers having what edge there was.

In the first half, Jokers opened with a strong forward attack that was broken up by Eastwood and Spence on the Ranger fullback line. Roskamp, at centre half for the Rangers, got his forwards away on a rush. Wensley, Jokers goalie, saved two fine shots from Tommy Balford's toe.

SAGE SCORES

Getting the ball away from Murray, Stofer dribbled from centre deep into Ranger territory, where he passed to Sage. Sage took a first-time foot at the ball and converted. After play was resumed, the ball hovered between the two opposing half-back lines. Tommy Balford secured and tricking his way through, registered the first Ranger goal. The half ended soon after.

Three minutes after the start of the second frame, Taylor, Ranger forward, shot a fast one into Wensley. The ball nicked the crossbar and as Wensley went to throw it out he turned in his goal giving the Rangers a score.

Stofer changed positions with Wyatt for the Jokers, going from the inside right position to the right half job.

Five minutes later Wyatt smashed in a terrific right-foot shot that gave Bourne no chance to save, for the equalizer. The whistle, ending the game, blew soon after.

McKay refereed. Teams follow:

Outer Wharf Rangers—Bourne, Eastwood, Spence, G. Balford, Roskamp, Thame, Obee, White, T. Balford, Taylor and Dawes.

Jokers—Wensley, Wyatt, Gloag, Stofer, Speller, Rogers, Murray, Sage, Campbell, Viggers and Collins.

Two goals from the toe of Jimmy Dickinson, centre forward, gave Maccabees-Wards a 2-1 victory over Outer Wharf Rangers in a Tolmie Cup game played yesterday afternoon at Lower Beacon Hill. The Rangers tallied through Tommy Belford. The game was evenly contested throughout, and all the scoring was in the first period.

The Maccabees-Wards came near to scoring on several occasions in the second half, but good goalkeeping held them to their one goal lead. The Rangers looked dangerous on several attacks, but their shooting in front of the goal lacked accuracy.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP).—Shutting out Washington Senators for eight innings, Bob Grove today led Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-1 victory and their first win of the season.

The lanky portsider scattered the six hits he allowed, and aided by the slugging of Foxx and Higgins, kept Washington from making it three in a row.

Not until the last inning did the Griffmen tally, when Goose Goslin, after doubling, scored on Schulte's single.

Stewart, starting his first game for Washington, allowed seven hits in eight innings. Higgins opened the fifth for Philadelphia with a homer over the right field fence.

In the eighth, Cochrane slammed out a triple, and after Foxx was purposely passed, Bluege took Johnson's roller but threw wild to Myer on an attempted double play. Cochrane scored.

BRITISH CUP TEAM NAMED

Great Britain's Tennis Line-Up to Play Against Spain Announced by Association

LONDON, April 14.—The Lawn Tennis Association announced yesterday that the following players have been selected to represent Great Britain against Spain in the first round Davis Cup-tie at Barcelona, on April 21, 22 and 23:

H. W. Austin, G. P. Hughes, H. G. N. Lee, F. J. Perry. Non-playing captain, H. Roper Barrett.

This is the team which represented Great Britain in most of the matches last year, and practically the same as that which got through to the challenge round of the competition two years ago. It may be presumed that Austin and Perry will play once more in the singles. In the last two years Perry and Hughes have been the doubles pair, and that combination may well be played again, although Perry and Austin played together at Queen's Club last week. It will probably be thought necessary not to put too much strain on Austin by having him play in doubles as well as singles.

Local Team Shows Fine Form in Sending Jacks Down to 44-28 Defeat

Whole Victoria Squad Gives Brilliant Exhibition in Trimming Alberta Champions to Win Right to Enter Finals for Dominion Crown—Lynn Patrick and Art Chapman High Scorers

Kirkham opened the scoring for the Jacks from under the hoop, and then he missed a field goal with nobody near him. Kirkham added a free throw shortly after when Ross hacked him under the hoop.

Art Chapman made a fine opening for Lynn Patrick and he passed to his brother Muzz, who registered right under the basket. Chuck Chapman tossed in another and Art followed, but the basket was disallowed as Fairbanks had fouled Muzz Patrick during the play. Joe Ross circled to the side court and dropped in a beauty, and then Lynn Patrick increased the locals' lead with a free throw after he had been hacked by Rolfson. Joe Ross was injured during a scramble under the local basket and he left the floor for the rest of the game. His ankle was badly sprained. Little took his place on the back division.

TWO FINE BASKETS

Kirkham converted another foul shot and then O'Brien tossed in a one-hander from the far corner of the floor. From the tip-off Lynn Patrick gained possession twice within thirty seconds to ring the hoop for two beauties to make it 17-6 for the Ribbons. Raymond called time out with only ten minutes gone. Seconds after play resumed Art Chapman took Muzz Patrick's accurate pass to score from the side, and then Little left his guard position to sneak through for another one, making it 21-6.

Craig came on for Little. Dick O'Brien added the Jacks' third basket with a beautiful one-handed flip shot from the corner. Rolfson had his third foul called on him when he bodied Craig heavily as the latter tried to get through.

Kirkham was sinking them from the foul line and tossed in another when Chuck Chapman hacked him under the hoop. With only three minutes to go, O'Brien worked to the corner again and tossed another of his famous one-handers. Lynn Patrick got the final basket of the first half when he went through fast on Art Chapman's pass to score. The interval came with the Ribbons leading, 25-12.

JACKS CHANGE LINE-UP

The Jacks made a change in their line-up, Hague going on for Rolfson. Ribbons started the same. Little and Lynn Patrick combined to go through the Jacks' defence and the former did the scoring. Hague tossed in a pretty, long shot, and then was fouled seconds later by Muzz Patrick, but missed. The Ribbons were going better than ever and were continually crashing through the Jacks' defence. Lynn Patrick and Art Chapman got a couple more, and the Jacks called time out with the score 33-14 against them.

Fairbanks and Kirkham retaliated for the visitors and then Craig went on for Muzz Patrick, who had his third foul called against him. With eight minutes gone, Fairbanks went off on personals and Rolfson took his place. Sluggett substituted for Lynn Patrick and scored as soon as he got on the floor with a long shot. Chuck Chapman added a free throw and Art Chapman followed with a beautiful one-hander and then O'Brien tallied, making it 38-20.

O'Brien was playing good ball, but he had a tough evening as Chuck Chapman was checking him. O'Brien scored again with a beauty from the side and the Ribbons called time out. Lynn and Muzz Patrick went on for Sluggett and Craig. Muzz Patrick went off on personals soon after when he fouled Nilsson. Craig took his place. Lynn Patrick took Art Chapman's lightning pass and tossed the ball in right under the basket and then Hague threw a long floater right through to make it 40-25. Art Chapman came back and scored from Lynn Patrick, with only two minutes to go. O'Brien broke loose again and sank another one-hander from the side, his favorite spot, but Lynn Patrick rushed down from the tip-off to tally again, bringing his total to fifteen for the evening. O'Brien caught a fast pass from Nilsson and registered the final field goal just before the gun.

BRILLIANT TEAM WORK

All the local boys played brilliantly, with Chuck Chapman turning in a sensational performance on the rear division. He broke the Jacks' hearts time and time again with his great defensive work, while Little turned in a smart display at right forward. The Patrick boys and Art Chapman clicked like champions, while Craig, Ross and Sluggett all worked hard. Dick O'Brien was the shining light for the visitors, while Nilsson, Rolfson and Kirkham worked hard throughout.

Tommy Macedo, Victoria, and Earl Zemp, Lethbridge, handled the game in fine style, their decisions pleasing the large crowd. In the opener, 5th Regiment defeated Nanaimo seniors, 45-29, to win the Winter Cup series. The first game was deadlocked on the Up-Island, the score being 34-34.

GRADS DEFEAT MAINLANDERS

Edmonton Quintette Takes First Game of Western Series by Score of 94 to 58

EDMONTON, April 14 (CP). — Featuring big Gladys Fry, the famous centre and sharp-shooting star, the Edmonton Commercial Grads defeated Vancouver Province girls here, today, 94-58, in the first of a two-game series for the Western Canadian senior women's basketball championship.

It was the first big test for the Grads this year. Minus most of their players of last year, Coach J. Percy Page was forced to bring in four new girls, but every one of them performed admirably, fitted into the Grad machine without any noticeable trouble, and while the defence was notably weak at times, the Grads always had enough to more than hold their own.

Betty Passerini was the outstanding player for the British Columbia champions. Time and again she broke through the Grads' lines and scored. In all, she finished the day's work with a total of twenty-one points to her credit, a phenomenal showing against the Grads.

In the preliminary game, the Commercial Graddettes defeated the Calgary All-Stars, 36-19.

The teams:

Vancouver—Code (6), Annan (18), Passerini (21), Downie (7), Smethurst (4), Thompson (2), Kennedy and Parkin.

Edmonton — MacBurney (18), Belanger (19), Fry (25), Neal (4), H. Stone (22), E. Coulson (6), E. Stone and J. Innis.

Referee—George Parney.

Ray Kersey Wins Annual Road Race By Narrow Margin

Noses Out Dave Garbutt, Duncan, in Britannia Branch Nine-Mile Run — Caesar Finnemore Places Third—Calder Wins Junior Event

Ray S. Kersey, unattached, nosed out Dave Garbutt, Duncan, by four seconds in the annual Good Friday road race sponsored by the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, held yesterday over a nine-mile route. The race was a good one to watch, with both boys running neck and neck for most of the grind. Caesar Finnemore captured third position. Five finished out of the field of seven. Kersey's time was fifty-one minutes and fifty-two seconds, a new record for the grind, which was the largest ever held by the branch.

By virtue of his win, Kersey takes possession of the Britannia Branch Cup for the next year.

CLOSE FINISH

Four seconds after Kersey crossed the line, Garbutt finished. Finnemore, who had kept close to the leaders all the way, dropped back during the last few miles and finished two minutes behind the Duncan entry.

Following Finnemore in the seniors' race were L. B. Douglas, who finished fourth, and T. Christiansen, who was fifth. A large crowd greeted the winner as he crossed the line on View Street.

CALDER WINS

In the five-mile junior event, D. Calder, of the Navy, nosed out J. Willday for The Times Cup. Calder was clocked at thirty minutes and thirty-four seconds. S. Hancock finished third, while R. Shepherd was fourth. Fourteen boys between the ages of fourteen and eighteen ran the five miles around Beacon Hill Park and back.

In the two-mile event for boys under fourteen, James Robinson, of Lampson Street School, headed a large field home for possession of the Hinchliffe Cup. His time was eleven minutes and thirty-nine seconds. G. T. Batten finished second; Jack Waldron, third; Alex Walker, fourth, and Gordon Cooper, fifth.

Chocolate Will Start Training For Title Bout

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Kid Chocolate, Cuban boxer, recognized here as featherweight champion, was in New York today ready to begin training for his fifteen-round title match with Seaman Tom Watson, of England, in Madison Square Garden, May 12.

Watson sailed from England three days ago.

The bout originally was scheduled for February, but had to be postponed when Chocolate was barred from the country because of failure to have an immigration permit. Fidel La Barba was substituted for Chocolate, and was defeated by the English titleholder.

J.B.A.A. COURTS WILL OPEN FOR PLAY TODAY

Weather permitting, the J.B.A.A. tennis courts will be open for play today, it was announced yesterday by A. J. Fouracre, secretary of the club. The official opening will not take place, however, until April 22, when women of the club will serve tea.

The courts are in splendid condition this year, having been fixed up considerably since last season. It is expected that the J.B.A.A. tennis club will hold an organization meeting shortly.

ROBERT RANKINE WINS ROAD RACE

TORONTO, April 14 (CP).—Retaining foremost position by subduing every challenge offered, Robert Rankine, lithe little pacer from Preston, Ont., today won the annual Bloor Street road race over a field of more than half a hundred. BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . . . By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Basking in Strange Glory—Many books of reference still confuse the carrier with the homing pigeon, although the two are entirely distinct species. The so-called carrier pigeon has been misnamed. It is a larger bird whose lack of homing ability is due to excessive eye ceres and wattles which interfere with its eyesight. The homing bird's head is convex, its back deep and wide, its bill sturdy and the neck well feathered, its strong chest broad and full. Its abdomen is reduced to the smallest proportions, enabling it to fly long distances and to survey the world with brilliant eyes, piercing and all-seeing.

The Tiniest Steam Engine—This ingenious contrivance is only half an inch long and weighs 1-2925 of a pound. The flywheel is about one-fifth of an inch in diameter and its piston rod one-eighth of an inch long. It can turn over as high as 15,000 r.p.m.

Max Schmeling Arrives at N.Y. For Baer Fight

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, arrived here today on the Bremen to start training for his match with Max Baer, in the Yankee Stadium, June 8.

As always, the young Teuton, who lost his title to Jack Sharkey last Summer, appeared in perfect condition, and ready to fight on a few days' notice. He said he weighed 190 pounds, approximately his best ring weight, and had been training steadily in Germany on aboard ship.

Jokers to Meet Maccabees-Wards In Cup Football

Jokers and Maccabees-Wards will clash this afternoon in the local fixture in the Victoria and District Football League in the Tolmie Cup series. The match will take place on the lower Beacon Hill pitch, and will get under way at 2:30 o'clock. McMillan will handle the game. A hard fought exhibition is expected as both elevens will be at full strength. Jokers will line-up as follows: Wemsley, Marglson, Wyatt, Stofer, Speller, Rogers, Woodley, Murray, Campbell, Sage, Gloag, Viggers and Collins.

Turbo-Electric Ship Propulsion Gathering Years

This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the turbine-electric ship, and, likewise, the twenty-fifth year that the General Electric Company has been engaged in the manufacture of marine propulsion equipment.

In 1908, the city of Chicago placed in service two fireboats, the Graeme Stewart and Joseph Medill, both propelled by turbo-electric apparatus. The electric generators and propeling motors were of the direct-current type, and the fire pumps were placed on extensions of the generator shafts, thus enabling the equipment to serve a double purpose. Both vessels are still in commission after twenty-five years of service. The electrical apparatus for these two boats comprised the first marine propulsion installation made by the General Electric Company of New York.

In 1913, a turbine generator installation upon the United States collier Jupiter marked the beginning of Uncle Sam's electric fleet, which now comprises six battleships and three airplane carriers. It was also the beginning of huge electric motors, the largest built for any purpose. In the navy the electric motors have reached a maximum of 22,500 horsepower, and in mercantile and passenger service the new French liner Normandie will be equipped with 40,000 horsepower motors, the most powerful ever built.

Glen Robbins Wins Moody Cup Classic By Lapping Field

Completes Fifteen-Mile Bike Grind in Forty Minutes—Morris Robinson, Vancouver Rider, Rides Great Race—Harold Whitehead Places Second

Taking the lead from the eighth lap, when Morris Robinson, plucky Vancouver rider, threw a tire, Glen Robbins, blonde-thatched local pedal pusher, rode his way to victory in the ninth annual fifteen-lap Moody Cup race, held yesterday at the Beacon Hill Park mile oval before a large Good Friday crowd. Robbins did the distance in 40 minutes flat. The feature of the event was Morris Robinson's riding. Puncturing his tire on the eighth lap, the Vancouver entry jumped an ordinary push bike, which he discarded shortly afterwards for an ancient racer, and finished the race on a heavy roadster machine. Robinson, by his courageous attempt, drew the plaudits of the crowd, who were much chagrined when it was announced he was disqualified for second place, due to being lapped by about five yards at the finish by the winner. Harold Whitehead, Victoria, was given second position, no third prize being awarded, owing to the fact that all other riders were lapped by Robbins.

Robinson stepped out from the gun, crossing the line ahead of Robbins and Whitehead for the first two laps. Whitehead took the third lap, inches ahead of Robbins, with Robinson at the winner's back wheel. Robinson, Farmer and Claude Peden fought it out for the next four laps with Glen and Morris sharing lap honors.

TIRE BLOWS OUT

In the eighth lap, Robinson, Robbins and George Farmer crossed the line in that order. At the far end of the oval the Vancouver man's tire burst, and from then on Robbins rode solo. The unfortunate Vancouver rider borrowed a spectator's machine, equipped with wide handle-bars, and rode into the finish line where he changed to an old racer. The going was too rough, however, and he switched again to a heavy roadster. Despite this handicap, Robinson finished second in the ninth and tenth laps.

For the next two laps, the best the Vancouver man could do was fourth. He was second in the thirtenth; fourth in the fourteenth and second in the fifteenth. But, being lapped by a few yards by Robbins, lost second honors.

Lap standings follow, with five points for first, three for second, two for third and one for fourth: First lap, M. Robinson, G. Robbins, George Farmer, Jim Taylor; second lap, M. Robinson, G. Robbins, H. Whitehead, Farmer; third lap, Whitehead, Robbins, Robinson, Claude Peden; fourth lap, Robinson, Robbins, Whitehead, Peden; fifth lap Robbins, Robinson, Whitehead, Peden; sixth lap, Robinson, Robbins, Peden, Whitehead; seventh lap, Robbins, Robinson, Farmer, Harold Hetherington; eighth lap, Robinson, Robbins, Hetherington, Whitehead; ninth lap, Robbins, Robinson, Farmer, Hetherington; tenth lap, Robbins, Robinson, Farmer, Whitehead; eleventh lap, Robbins, Farmer, Robinson, Whitehead; twelfth lap, Robbins, Whitehead, Farmer, Robinson; thirteenth lap, Robbins, Robinson, Peden, Hetherington; fourteenth lap, Robbins, Whitehead, Farmer, Robinson; fifteenth lap, Robbins, Robinson, Whitehead, Farmer.

MANY DROP OUT

William Clark, Victoria, and William Feesenmeir, Duncan, were lapped out in the thirteenth. Ken Magnall, Vancouver, dropped out on the second lap, owing to the strong wind. Pete Tyson, Garfield Robbins, both Victoria riders, dropped out early in the game.

Jim Taylor got a puncture in the second, dropping out.

The best time for the distance was made by Jim Davies, of Vancouver, in 1924 when he completed the fifteen-mile grind in 37:50 3-5. Last year Lew Rush, now a six-day bike racer in the big time, negotiated the distance in 53:02 1-5.

Complete results of the day's racing follow:

Two-mile handicap, under eighteen—1, Harold Whitehead; 2, Charlie Warren; 3, Doug Peden, 5:22 2-5.

One-mile handicap, under fourteen—1, Wilfred Tyson; 2, Reg. Raiph; 3, Roy E. Duval, 3:09 4-5.

One-mile handicap, under sixteen—1, C. Robbins; 2, K. Reid; 3, D. Tyson, 2:33 3-5.

LIST CLOSES TONIGHT FOR BIG TOURNEY

Entries for Bowling Congress Must Be In This Evening

Entries for the forthcoming Northwestern International Bowling Congress tournament, to be held on the Olympic Recreations alleys from April 28 to May 6, will close tonight at midnight, according to the announcement made yesterday by Rowan Mackenzie, manager of the local alleys. Several last-minute entries are expected from local and outside teams. Anywhere from 350 to 400 of the finest tenpin bowlers in the Pacific Northwest will invade the city seeking the honors in the team and doubles matches.

Three outstanding teams have already entered from San Francisco, while a number of strong squads are coming here from Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Vancouver and other points. Victoria will have one of the strongest and largest contingents in recent years and are expected to uphold their own against the best of the invaders. Thirty local teams have entered, while several more are due to file their registrations at the alleys before the list closes. A record field is expected to compete in the doubles and singles.

SECRETARY TO ARRIVE

G. H. Hudson, secretary of the association, will arrive next Wednesday and will remain in the city until the tourney is finished. Work on resurfacing the alleys started on Thursday. The shellac will be removed, the alleys will be planed, sanded and made absolutely level. They will receive four or five coats of shellac and then be ready for the grand opening. Eight alleys on the bottom floor have been reserved for the congress. Eighty-five sets of new pins arrived in the city on Thursday and will be used in the tournament. Each bowling team will open with a new set of pins. A grandstand providing for seating accommodations for 300 will be erected on the lower floor.

TEAMS ENTERED

Local teams already entered follow: Imperial Oil, Bohemians, Daily Colonist, Daily Times, Wenger's, Poodle Dog Cafe, Jokers, B.C. Electric, Straith's, King's Shoe Store, Greer's Men's Wear, B.A. Paint Company, Pantorium, Moore Club (James Island), Empress Hotel (four teams), New England Cafe, Hoyle-Brown, Limited, Logana Company, Rennie & Taylor, Diggon-Hibben, B.C. Telephone, Macdonald's Consolidated, Olympic Recreations and Metropolis Hotel.

Some of the Victoria teams in the doubles follow: White and Young, Norris and Hawkins, Matson and Chislett, Milligan and Paulding, Howel and Mackenzie, Moulton and Theobald, Clarke and Benn, Pickup and Corbett.

SOCCER LINE-UPS

A small car collided with a motor lorry, and, as it was clearly the fault of the car driver, he said: "Well, all I can say is that I'm sorry."

"Oh," said the lorry driver, "is that all you can say?"

"Yes."

"Right—just listen to me!"

Arsenal XI Takes Stranglehold on English Football

Gunners Hand Sheffield Wednesday 4-2 Setback to Gain Five-Point Lead—Tottenham Hotspurs Within Point of Stoke in Second Division

LONDON, April 14 (CP).—The Arsenal took a strangehold on the championship of the First Division of the English Soccer League when they defeated Sheffield Wednesday, 4-2, at the Highbury grounds this afternoon.

The victory put Arsenal, league leaders, a full five points in front of Sheffield, second-placers, and there are only three more full league schedules to play, in addition to the partial holiday schedules of Monday and Tuesday.

Most teams in the English League were engaged in holiday fixtures today, although there was no first-class soccer in Scotland, where Celtic and Motherwell battle in the cup final tomorrow.

As Arsenal drew into a substantial lead in the First Division, the other placings near the top were not affected by today's games. Both Aston Villa and Newcastle United, tied for third place eight points behind the leaders, were idle today, and West Bromwich Albion, fifth-place holders, took a 1-0 beating from Manchester City, who are just safely above the line where relegations are going to take their toll.

Net effect of the struggle among the lowly teams to escape relegation into the Second Division in today's battles was to put Leicester City and Middlebrough on the spot. Leicester City lost to Chelsea, 4-1, and Middlesbrough were beaten, 2-0, at Wolverhampton. Blackpool escaped from under by beating Blackburn Rovers, 3-0, which leaves Blackpool a point above Leicester and Middlesbrough.

SPURS CLOSE ON LEADERS

Tottenham Hotspurs came within a point of Stoke City, Second Division leaders, by playing a scoreless tie with Plymouth Argyle, while Stoke were being beaten, 1-0, at Charlton Athletic's grounds. Southampton sprung a surprise in the Second Division, their eleven, which is way down the table, trouncing the sixth-place Notts County by 6 to 2 in one of the highest scoring games of the day.

Brentford went into a three-point lead in the Southern Section of the Third Division when they triumphed by 2 to 1 at Bristol City, while the second-place holders, Norwich City, were losing, 4-0, at Crystal Palace. Exeter City took the opportunity to draw into a tie for second place by adding a point with a 2-2 tie at Clapton Orient's park.

Chester toppled Hull City from leadership of the Northern Section, Third Division, by beating Rochdale, 2-0. Hull are a point below Chester, thanks to their 2-0 defeat by Tranmere Rovers. Wrexham, third-place holders, played a 1-1 tie at Doncaster Rovers' grounds and stayed within three points of the leaders.

Games in all parts of the country were favored by perfect weather conditions and large holiday crowds turned out.

Penha Will Give Concert Tuesday In Empress Hotel

Michel Penha, whose appearance here in recital on Tuesday evening at the Empress Hotel ballroom will be the first of two concerts of similar character being sponsored by the Beaux-Arts, is a Hollander, born in Amsterdam, where he received his early musical training. He began his studies when he was seven, not as a child prodigy, as one might imagine, but as a rebellious boy fighting the injustice of his teacher. This experience made him sensitive at an early age to the necessity of sympathetic relationship between teacher and pupil. He feels that the child comes into life full of the potentialities of growth, and that it is the sacred duty of those entrusted with its development not to put obstacles in the pathway.

He toured Europe and the East Indies while still a young man, then went out to South America. There he founded an amateur orchestra in Santiago, Chile, drawing round him a group of young musicians typical of the community interest in music that he has succeeded in arousing wherever he has spent any length of time.

In the United States subsequently, he suffered many setbacks before winning the recognition which gave him the position of first 'cellist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, under Stokowski, a position which he held for five years. Before he joined the Neah-Kah-Nie String Quartette he had been for some time with the San Francisco Symphony, doing splendid work both as 'cellist and as concert-master. Now he is well known, among Pacific Coast cities particularly, as a member of the ensemble and a soloist of distinction on the 'cello.

It isn't always the most promising man who pays his debts.

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit—the law of divine Love." (page 19).

"Christ Dies on the Cross"

THE Christian Church on this day, sometimes called Holy Saturday, is still under the shadow of the tragedy of Calvary, to which believers the world over turned yesterday, with many devotional services. The scene of redemption is here graphically depicted by P. Mestroenni, an Italian sculptor, who was once a Roman carpenter. He taught himself the art of modeling, spending twenty-five years on a series portraying the life of Jesus Christ.

In the evening, at 7:15 o'clock, there will be the usual congregational song services, and at 7:30 Dr. Henry will give a short address on "If Christ Be Not Risen."

In the morning Mrs. W. S. Moore will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" (Handel), and the choir will give the anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord" (Stainer). Anglicans to Begin Wide Canvass for Restoration Fund

IN view of the large amount of territory to be covered, the volunteer canvassers for the Restoration Fund of the Church of England, will begin work next week, predating by one week the time that has been set for general purposes, viz., April 23-30. This fund aims at making up the enormous amount lost to the church through the defalcations of a trusted lay leader in Winnipeg. Pending the restoration of the funds, the income obligations are being met by the bishops and clergy throughout Canada during the next three years. The project has been received with great interest even in less fortunate sections of the Dominion. The diocesan treasurer is C. W. Pangman, Bank of Toronto, Yates and Broad Streets.

FAREWELL SERMON TO BE PREACHED

Rev. M. S. Richardson Will Give Closing Words to Emmanuel Baptist Church Tomorrow

"The Road Into the Sunset" is the theme of the Sunday morning Easter sermon in Emmanuel Baptist Church by Rev. M. S. Richardson. A farewell sermon will be preached in the evening.

Special music for the day is as follows: Morning—Anthem, "We Declare Unto You Glad Tidings" (Maunder); solo part will be taken by Miss Gladys Marchant. DIPLOMACY WILL BE SERMON TOPIC

Pastor N. C. Erntson Will Discuss Present Phase of Politics in European Life

Pastor N. C. Erntson, of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, is continuing his Sunday night lectures in the church. The subject for tomorrow is one of great interest, viz., "Are the Diplomats of Europe Turning to the Pope for Help?" What does prophecy say about this, and how is it to terminate? Many are asking the question if the Papal power will rule Europe again. Bible answers to this question will be given.

The regular services of the church are held at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11:15; young people's meetings at 3, prayer meetings on Wednesdays at 7:30.

Continued Interest Being Shown in Oxford Group Movement

CONTINUED interest is being shown in the Oxford Group Movement in this city. Following its endorsement by the Ministerial Association at a recent meeting, the ministers of the city who are interested, are called to meet on Monday, April 24, at 10 o'clock at Memorial Hall. The purpose of this meeting is to arrange for fraternal gatherings among the ministers and to give direction to the movement.

About a score of Victoria residents were present at the "house party" at Harrison Hot Springs last week-end, which 600 persons in all were reported to have attended. A similar gathering is being held at Qualicum at the present time. The team concluded its services in Vancouver on Wednesday with four large meetings. It is understood that Calgary will be visited next week.

The Church of England Newspaper, London, reports that in Pretoria, South Africa, whose white population is about the same as that of Victoria, has more than thirty groups. That city was introduced to the Group Movement less than five years ago.

MANY FEATURES WILL MARK DAY

Metropolitan to Have Choral Services With Reception and Communion

Easter Day will be celebrated in Metropolitan Church in two services of outstanding beauty and solemnity. The pulpit will be decorated with a profusion of flowers for the occasion. This will be followed by a reception service for new members and Holy Communion.

The evening service will have as one of its musical devotions the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus, with the background of the illuminated cross. The musical programme of the day is rich in the beautiful music of Easter. The mission conducted by the Fraser brothers, Scottish evangelists, at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, has continued to draw large and attentive audiences night after night throughout the past week. Mrs. Fraser also has a voice of exceptional depth and sweetness.

Churches Combine In Evangelization Of Canadian Life

THE high-water mark of Christian unity in Canada characterizes the movements now on, which aims at the evangelization of Canadian life, in which the various services held during Lent and culminating in Easter, held a prominent place. The four leading communions in the Dominion, beginning with contacts on Canada's needs of the Gospel that were made about eighteen months ago, have come together in a co-operative plan to stress the enthronement of Christ and Christian principles in the life of the individual and of the whole national community. As the church feature for Easter Sunday, some account of this movement will be given, which has the distinction of being the farthest degree of joint action yet attained among the churches of the world.

CANCER DEATH RATE INCREASING

If those individuals who have been cured of cancer by radium, X-ray, or operation, would tell others about their cure many deaths from cancer would be avoided. It would seem that for some reason anyone afflicted is rather ashamed of it as if were a moral blemish.

Lord Moynihan, the great English surgeon, in speaking of the operation for cancer, says that the public ought to know that in operating the surgeon has gone as far as it is physically possible for him to go. His operations could not be more extensive; it was hardly possible for them to be safer or have more successful results.

The reason why equal success does not attend every case is that nearly everything depends on "early" treatment.

Cancer is not a constitutional disease at first; it starts in the ordinary tissue of the part, and if that part can be reached a cure can be obtained. Certain cases are beyond the reach of the surgeon, but even cancer that cannot be removed from the brain can now be reached by radium treatment.

Lord Moynihan says further: Cancer rarely attacks a healthy organ. Such things as chronic irritation, inflammation, lumps and sores on the tongue and lip are not cancerous to begin with but they lead to cancer."

Cancer is not hereditary, infectious or contagious. Its worst feature is that at first it is almost always painless. He wishes it were painful so that people would be driven to the physician.

Cancer that can be reached is curable on one day but not on the next. Hence the overwhelming importance of early diagnosis and early treatment.

It is worth knowing that the average death rate from all causes has gone down 32 per cent in the last twenty years, while the cancer death rate has increased 20 per cent. One death in every seven persons over thirty-five years of age is due to cancer, and yet cancer in its early stages is completely curable.

Notwithstanding the above figures and notwithstanding the fact that early treatment will save life, many people put off seeing the doctor because the sore or lump gives no pain.

PORKERS COUNTED IN OLD COUNTRY

Census Now Being Conducted by Ministry of Agriculture—Reorganization Schemes Submitted

LONDON, April (CP).—A census of all the hogs in England and Wales is now being conducted. The Ministry of Agriculture requires reliable figures of the pig population in view of the expected reorganization of the British pig industry, following the acceptance by the Government of the report of the Pig Commissioners. Every occupier of more than one acre of land who declared he had pigs on his holding, when the general agricultural census was taken last year is required to furnish details. According to last year's returns the pig population of England and Wales was 3,181,000, an increase over the previous year of 398,000.

Two reorganization schemes have lately been submitted to the Ministry, one by the National Farmers' Union, on behalf of the producers, and the other by the Food Manufacturers' Federation, on behalf of the bacon curing trade. If there are any objections to these schemes they must be lodged with the Ministry immediately.

An accurate estimate of the home supply of pigs will naturally be required if a quota for imported bacon is one of the measures which the Government may consider necessary.

UNITED CHURCH HAS NEW PLANS

Educational System Is Modified by Merging Two Boards Under One Department

TORONTO, April 13 (CP). — A new departure in the forms of educational organization has been made by the United Church of Canada in setting up a board of Christian education, which holds its first meeting at Victoria University, here, on April 4, 5 and 6. Hitherto there has been a board of education to supervise colleges and the training of candidates for the ministry, and a board of religious education which has had the supervision of Sunday schools and young peoples' work generally. These two are now to be merged in one board of many and varied functions that centre in the one word education.

In a statement on the purpose underlying this action, the moderator, Dr. T. Albert Moore, says: "When the fifth general council amalgamated the two historic boards into one and constituted the Board of Christian Education, giving it oversight of the entire educational interests of the church from the member of the Cradle Roll to the university graduate, it multiplied opportunities for giving effective leadership to every educational activity within the church, and it magnified the relationship which necessarily exists between the great spiritual objective of the church and one of its most influential methods of work."

Reflecting the high hopes expressed last Autumn when the merger plan was adopted, the moderator points out that every individual child, youth or adult, who comes within the church influence, will come within the scope of the board's planning at its inaugural sessions next week.

Rev. E. W. Wallace, D.D., chancellor and president of Victoria University, has been appointed chairman of the new board. Rev. J. W. Graham, D.D., veteran secretary of the former board of education, who retires in June, will be associated with Rev. Frank Langford, D.D., secretary of the board of religious education, in presenting the business. Arrangements for the sessions are now being completed by the interim executive, which has been functioning in advance of the first full meeting of the board.

CANADIAN DOLLAR AND POUND RATES

NEW YORK, April 14 (CP). — Buoyant strength was maintained by the pound sterling on the New York foreign exchange market today, as it closed 1 1-2 cents higher at a cable rate of $3.45 3-4. The Canadian dollar remained firm, ending the day unchanged at 83 1-2 cents, a premium of 19 3-4 per cent in United States funds, as against the Dominion's currency.

The pound, which advanced strongly yesterday, shot up to $3.4 at the open today, and reacted slightly thereafter. Its range was from $3.44 1-4 to $3.46 1-4.

BAR SILVER

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Bar silver, 1-4 higher at 28 1-2.

CHEESE EXPORT SEASON STARTS

Record Shipments to United States Expected at Montreal—Vessels Loading

MONTREAL, April 14 (CP). — Montreal's cheese export season commences next week. Annual movement of millions of pounds of Canadian cheese to the United Kingdom, representing millions of pounds per year, will be inaugurated next Friday and Saturday, when first vessels depart with the cheese shipments.

Last season Montreal cheese exports to the United Kingdom totaled 934,615 boxes of eighty-five pounds each, representing 79,442,275 pounds. It was the largest volume since 1928. Dealers are looking for an increase this year over last. Stocks in storage here are plentiful. On March 31 they totaled 46,107 boxes.

Some light trading was done on Montreal markets today, although the holiday was generally observed. Prices held nominally unchanged. The Board of Trade was closed all day, and no receipts were posted.

The butter market ranged from 29-30 cents per pound for car lots or less of No. 1. Small lots to retailers were quoted by jobbing houses at 31 cents for solids, and 32 for prints.

The egg market, for graded shipments in car lots or less on spot, was generally 17 cents for extras, 15 cents for firsts, and 13 1-2-14 cents for seconds. Some sales have been made lower for shipment.

The cheese market was quoted 10 3-4 to 11 cents per pound for current Ontario colored.

Wheat Big Topic On Heavy Agenda At World Parley

Economic Conference, to Be Held Shortly in London, Will Discuss Regulation of Export and Production of Wheat, Besides Currency, Exchange and Trade Problems

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP).—The World Economic Conference which meets shortly in London will be asked to consider the question of regulating the export or the production of wheat, according to the agenda, prepared by the commission of experts, which was tabled by the Prime Minister in the House of Commons here recently. An international arrangement on this point would be particularly important, says the agenda, in view of the fact that the cultivation of wheat represents the livelihood of a large proportion of mankind.

Abolition of exchange restrictions, greater freedom in international trade, and reconsideration of "recent economic tendencies in so far as these are reflected in excessive tariffs" are recommended by the commission of experts, who urge that the whole world situation be grappled with in a comprehensive programme of world reconstruction as rapidly as possible.

ECONOMIC DISARMAMENT

"In essence, the necessary programme is one of economic disarmament," the agenda declares. "In the movement towards economic reconciliation, the armistice was signed at Lausanne; the London Conference must draft the treaty of peace. Failure in this critical undertaking threatens a world-wide adoption of ideals of national self-sufficiency which cut unmistakably athwart the lines of economic development."

To adopt ideals of "national self-sufficiency," says the introduction to the agenda, "would shake the whole system of international finance to its foundations, standards of living would be lowered and the social system as we know it could hardly survive. 'These developments, if they occur, will be the result, not of any inevitable natural law, but of the failure of human will and intelligence to devise the necessary guarantee of political and economic international order. The responsibility of governments is clear and inescapable."

The document, which is in the form of a communication from the commission of experts to members of the League of Nations council and assembly, sets forth "the gravity of the situation with which the world is confronted."

APPALLING BURDEN

It notes that, according to the international labor office at Geneva, at least 30,000,000 workers are unemployed throughout the world. "Even this huge total, which does not include the workers' families or other dependents, is probably an underestimate," adds the document. "The burden of suffering and demoralization resulting from unemployment of such proportions is appalling."

Wholesale commodity prices, expressed in gold, have declined by roughly one-third since October, 1929; raw material prices have dropped on the average by 50 to 60 per cent.

"In the middle of December, at Winnipeg the price of wheat fell to the lowest level recorded in any primary market for wheat during the past four centuries," says the agenda. "Such price-declines have produced profound disturbances in the economic system. They have thrown completely out of adjustment prevailing costs of the various factors of production, have made business enterprise generally unremunerative, and have seriously disorganized practically all the world markets.

"World stocks of agricultural products and of other raw materials continue to accumulate. The index of world stocks for 1932 was double that for 1925. Huge accumulations thus overhang some of the principal markets, and burden the processes of orderly price readjustment.

"Industrial production has been drastically curtailed, particularly in those trades producing capital equipment. The depths which have been reached in some instances are illustrated by the position of the United States steel industry, which, at the close of 1932, was operating at only 10 per cent of capacity.

INCREDIBLE LEVELS

"The international flow of goods, hindered by currency disorders and restricted by a multiplicity of new governmental interventions, has been reduced to incredibly low levels. The total value of world trade in the third quarter of 1932 was only about one-third of that in the corresponding period of 1929. The fall during the three-year period was continuous.

The document states that "only a handful of countries now retain free and uncontrollable gold-standard currency systems. Almost half the countries of the world are off the gold standard, and, in some forty countries, exchange restrictions have been imposed."

The commission of experts do not believe it possible "to make substantial progress by piecemeal measures," adding that "a policy of 'nibbling' will not solve this crisis. We believe that the governments of the world must make up their minds to achieve a broad solution by concerted action along the whole front."

The principal questions which the governments are being asked to consider at the forthcoming conference embrace six elements. These are:

Monetary and credit policy; prices; resumption of the movement of capital; restrictions on international trade; tariff and treaty policy, and organization of production and trade.

SIX ELEMENTS

With regard to the first, the experts say "the objective must be the restoration of an effective international monetary standard to which the countries which have abandoned the gold standard can wisely adhere. Each government must, of course, remain free to decide when and under what conditions it could adopt such a standard." The experts emphasize the necessity of providing safeguards "against such a restoration of the gold standard leading to a fresh breakdown."

In the matter of prices, the commission indicates that "one of the methods that should be considered is the continuation and development where monetary conditions permit, of a general policy of easy money designed to promote a healthy expansion of business.

"At the same time," says the agenda, "the question requires to be considered whether, particularly in the case of certain primary commodities where large stocks are overhanging the markets, a better level of prices could not be obtained by the regulation of exports or production. Such an arrangement could be of special importance in the case of wheat, the cultivation of which represents the livelihood of a large proportion of mankind.

Of "resumption of the movement of capital" and associated matters, the agenda says:

"The abolition of exchange restriction is an essential condition of world recovery. For this purpose the Governments concerned must take the internal measures necessary to secure the stability of their budgets and of their economic system. The restoration of free exchanges is so essential to the recovery of financial confidence and to the resumption of the normal flow of international credit that the Governments should consider whether they cannot expedite the process."

URGE GREATER FREEDOM

Greater freedom in international trade is urged by the commission of experts. "Every country seeks to defend its economy by imposing restrictions on imports, which in the end involve a contraction of exports. All seek to sell but not to buy. Such a policy must inevitably lead to an increasing paralysis of international trade. Governments should set themselves to re-establish the normal interchange of commodities," the document says.

A general agreement for the progressive relaxation and, at the earliest date, complete abrogation of emergency measures imposed as a result of the crisis is recommended. The document adds:

"At the same time, it will be necessary for the Governments to reconsider recent economic tendencies in so far as these are reflected in excessive tariffs, and to arrive at understandings for the moderation and stabilization of tariff policies in future."

The experts do not believe that "partial remedies" will be successful.

"What is needed is a comprehensive programme of world reconstruction, and this should be carried through as rapidly as possible, so as to strengthen the forces which are now working towards recovery. We have here presented such a programme. We would not give the impression that the adoption of this programme could deliver the world at a stroke from the difficulties under which it is laboring. But, if the Governments are prepared to undertake it, and also to settle political questions which lie outside the scope of the conference, we believe that confidence and prosperity can be restored."

"I do not love you!" said a young woman who knew her own mind. "But," persisted the young man, "couldn't you learn to love me?" "No," she replied; "I have learned a good many difficult things, but they have always been things that I wanted to learn!"

Uncle and niece stood watching the young people dancing about them.

"I bet you never saw any dancing like this back in the nineties, eh, uncle?"

"Once—but the place was raided."
